

FAKE CRASH CLAIM CAUGHT ON CCTV

By Rob Cox

AN 'opportunistic' fraudster claimed to have been injured in a crash involving a bus but was thwarted when CCTV footage showed her standing safely on the pavement.

Helen Elcock saw her parked Ford Focus being struck by a bus in Cannock and jumped into the driver's seat to pretend she had been it at the time and was injured, a court heard.

The single mother-of-two tried to sue bus company Arriva for up to £3,000 claiming she had suffered neck and shoulder whiplash injuries in the collision in Hednesford Road on March 14 last year.

She even deceived a doctor, convincing him she had genuine neck pain which would take four months to heal, a judge was told.

But CCTV footage obtained by Arriva revealed she had been entirely uninjured and was standing safely away from her car when the bus struck. Her personal injury claim was subsequently struck out and Elcock admitted her deceit. Arriva then began contempt of court proceedings against her.

Costs

At Birmingham County Court last week a judge found three separate contempts were proven relating to documents submitted by Elcock to the courts as part of her personal injury claim.

Judge Charles Purle QC sentenced her to a six months jail term, suspended for 12 months.

The court heard Elcock, of Newlands Court, Heath Hayes, had already paid £6,750 for costs relating to in the initial personal injury claim. He awarded further costs of £9,412 following the latest proceedings.

Sentencing Elcock, he said: "This woman is guilty of a repeated and continued fraud. This was a deception she maintained over many months. She misled solicitors, medical experts and the courts. The fraud was maintained until the position became untenable."

Mr Corin Furness, acting for Arriva, said: "In the CCTV she is seen to get in her car immediately after the crash takes place. She is sitting with the door open when the bus driver gets out, so the bus driver understands she had been in her car. It was only on seeing the CCTV the facts became clear to those who instruct me."

Miss Amrisha Parathalingam, defending Elcock, said: "She is extremely sorry for what she has done."

REGIMENTAL MASCOT IS TOP OF THE FORM

Watchman unveils new classrooms at primary

PUPILS at a primary school in Hednesford were joined by the Staffordshire Regiment's Mascot to unveil two new classrooms.

Sgt Watchman V was at St Peter's Primary in Reservoir Road to officially open the new year four classrooms.

The Staffordshire bull terrier was joined by handler, Warrant Officer Class 2 Greg Hedges to meet the youngsters in the new rooms – which have been kitted with the latest touch screen technology.

WO2 Hedges spent the afternoon speaking to the children about the history of the Watchman and how to be safe around dogs. Governors were delighted at how the day turned out.

Mobile

The school, which is now rated good after being placed in special measures by Ofsted in 2012, is hoping it will continue to improve and receive an outstanding report during the next inspection.

A recent SIAMS Church of England reported rated the school of 450 pupils as outstanding.

Previously, year four pupils had been taught in mobile classrooms but the computer suite has since been extended, meaning children are now situated in the main school building.

During the redevelopment of the buildings, the project took six months longer than expected after a mining fracture was discovered under one of the buildings.

PLANNING

Homes could be razed for rail hub

ELEVEN homes could be demolished to make way for a proposed rail freight hub at Four Ashes.

Developers are in discussions with homeowners about purchasing their properties so they can be bulldozed as part of plans for the huge warehouse complex.

The multi-million pound scheme would see 700 acres of Staffordshire countryside transformed into a rail terminal with 3,000 lorries a day entering and leaving the site.

In all, 43 existing buildings would be demolished. Gravely Way Farm – which is located on the site – is proposed to be converted into estate management offices and 'well-fare facilities'.

Two homes in Croft Lane would be demolished under plans to create one of two 'community parks'. Four properties on Vicarage Road could be knocked down, along with three on Straight Mile, and one each on Stafford Road and Watling Street. Seven huge electricity pylons that cross the site will also have to be removed as well as 34 wood poles and the overhead line circuits. All electricity supply would be moved underground.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson said: "This is just another reason to oppose these monstrous proposals."

Battlefield clay sculpture goes on show

The 'everyman' sculpture

A SCULPTURE made out of clay taken from the Passchendaele battlefield site has been unveiled at the National Memorial Arboretum.

Representing soldiers from each side of the conflict, the sculpture is part of the centenary commemorations of the Battle of Passchendaele, one of the most notorious campaigns of the First World War.

Professor Stephen Dixon from Manchester School of Art at Manchester Metropolitan University has crafted an 'everyman' composite sculpture inspired by photographs of soldiers from the six nations involved in the battle. The metre-high portrait is the central feature of the Arboretum's new Passchendaele: Mud and Memory exhibition, using clay from both the Wienerberger Quarry and Brickworks, located on the Passchendaele battlefield site, as well as local Staffordshire clay.

The exhibition, in the Arboretum's Landscapes of Life Temporary Gallery, will be on display until autumn.

Prof Dixon has visited the site to demonstrate to visitors the press-moulding process involved in the creation of the 'everyman' sculpture. Other elements of the exhibition focus on the evocative power of historical artefacts from the conflict, many of which Prof Dixon has collected himself.

Kathryn Rogerson, exhibitions officer at the National Memorial Arboretum, said: "Temporary exhibitions are a key part of our cultural offering, allowing us to engage new audiences and explore artistic methods of Remembrance."

"We are delighted to host this new exhibition from noted sculptor Stephen Dixon, bringing part of Passchendaele's battlefield to the Arboretum through an imposing mud masterpiece."

Crossings to close for work on Chase Line

THREE level crossings will close for up to six months during electrification and upgrade work on the Chase Line.

Footpath crossings at Westbourne Avenue in Landywood and at Pebble Mill Drive on the Stoneyfields Estate in Cannock, will be closed for six months from tomorrow (Friday).

Network Rail says the closures will reduce the level of risk to drivers, cyclists and pedestrians from machinery and engineering trains working in the area.

Meanwhile, the crossing at Bloxwich will be closed between August 12 and September 4 while the track is renewed.

Because the upgrade of the line will mean an increase in faster and quieter trains, which will increase the level of risk at both footpath crossings, Network Rail will seek a permanent closure of them when the work is complete.

Risk

James Cooper, scheme project manager for Network Rail, said: "The upgrade of the line between Walsall and Rugeley Trent Valley will provide passengers with a better, more reliable railway."

"Faster and quieter trains – and more of them – means that the risk to people using these crossings will be increased."

"We are committed to making the railway safer, so will seek to permanently close both crossings. This decision will be made with the local authority, and local people will be kept fully informed."

Landywood and Stoneyfields footpath crossings will be fenced off to prevent trespass and vandalism. Short diversionary routes will be in place during the closures.

Passenger and freight trains will no longer sound their horns as they approach the crossings, reducing disturbance to residents. Information will be available at the crossings, and Network Rail says the diversionary routes will be clearly signed.

Further details can be obtained by calling the national helpline on 03457 114 141.

Flood defence cost doubles to £4m

The latest works taking place on the flood defence scheme in Rugeley

THE Rugeley flood defence scheme appears to have doubled in cost to £4m. Meanwhile concerns over vandalism mean the nearby heritage trail could remain closed.

The Environment Agency says the construction stage is expected to last until December this year, later than planned, due to drinking supplies in the town being diverted.

The authority says most of the embankment has now been built with around 150 metres left but residents have been warned there will be disruption. Its July update states the scheme will cost £4m. It was previously understood to be £2m.

The update also confirms the Hagley playing fields will be blocked off until next year while the EA has said the heritage trail will remain closed on a temporary basis, at least until Christmas.

Grass

It adds: "As part of the work, the Environment Agency will be re-instating the collapsing footbridge which forms part of Cannock

Chase Heritage Trail and is owned by Cannock Chase District Council.

"The Environment Agency plans to re-seed the Hagley playing fields in autumn 2017 and they will remain closed to the public until 2018. The exact date will depend on how well the grass grows back."

"The Agency would like to reopen the heritage trail earlier (the main public footpath path up to Cannock Chase). However the area is prone to vandalism which means the whole area may need to be closed to the public."

Farewell as headteacher hands over the reins

Over to you – Victoria Musgrave, left, and Maggie Shackleton

A BOARDING school has waved farewell to its executive headteacher of more than four years.

Abbots Bromley School said goodbye to Mrs Victoria Musgrave as well as the departing Year 13 students. Maggie Shackleton, who has already been in post for a term, has formally taken over.

She paid tribute to Mrs Musgrave in her first address, as well as the outgoing pupils, particularly vocational dance and musical theatre students who await A-level results having already achieved 21 distinction stars in their performing arts BTEC.

Mrs Shackleton said: "Abbots Bromley School is truly a creative school in this beautiful and creative county of Staffordshire."

"Evidence shows that creative and artistic students reach their full potential in all academic areas. I look forward to leading this vibrant school through the next stage of its development, building upon the work of Mrs Musgrave."

Success in bid to fund campaign over FGM

STAFFORDSHIRE'S Police & Crime Commissioner's office has won a bid for funding to tackle the crime of female genital mutilation.

The Home Office pledged £15 million across England and Wales over the next three years to tackle violence against women and girls, and organisations were invited to bid for projects.

The PCC's office led a bid on behalf of a number of bodies, including the police, county and city councils, health and key voluntary women's groups, to secure funding to tackle FGM.

Deputy Police & Crime Commissioner Sue Arnold, who led an awareness campaign on behalf of PCC Matthew Ellis, welcomed news of the bid. "This is a great result," she said.

"Female genital mutilation is a hideous practice, and it's a crime. It invariably goes unreported and results in tremendous psychological, as well as physical, pain and suffering, which can and does traumatise girls for life.

"This isn't just a problem for women in affected communities - it's an issue which we all need to face."

FGM is practised in 28 African countries and some in the Middle East and Asia and affects migrant communities in the UK.

The project hopes to work closely with the National FGM Centre model and learn from the good practice and evidence base they have produced.

Loyalty awards for Co-op staff

CENTRAL England Co-op workers have been honoured for their long service, having clocked up a combined 1,900 years working for the society.

An afternoon tea event was held at Chatsworth House, in Derbyshire, for those who had achieved more than 30, 40 and 50 years' service.

The 57 employees were drawn from across the society's 16-county trading estate and work for all parts of the business.

Staff rewarded for their long service include those from the society's distribution sites in Leicester and Lichfield.

The recipients also work at food stores and funeral homes in Leicester, Birmingham, Derby, Coalville, Tamworth, Stone, Lichfield, and Lowestoft.

£14k charity joy at Rotary changeover

Cliff Shore, left, with Harold Bould

THE Rotary Club of Cannock has a new president for the organisation's forthcoming year.

The changeover ceremony saw Harold Bould pass on the role to Cliff Shore. More than 60 people were at the event, including representatives from other local Rotary clubs, and six members from Chase Interact Club.

Harold thanked the club members for their support and announced details of a very successful year for the club, which raised more than £14,000.

The money has been used to support local and international charities and good causes. The Rotary club has made donations to the Cannock Friends of St Giles Hospice, the Stafford & Cannock League of Hospital Friends and The Brain Tumour Charity. Further ahead, the club has donated money to help support victims of the famine in Africa.

During the evening, there was a cheque presentation to The Pathway Project, a charity which supports victims of domestic abuse. This money was given to the Cannock club from The Rotary Club of Brie-Pontault based near Paris, and from The Rotary club of Bad Kreuznach in Germany's Rhineland, following their recent visit. Harold informed the meeting that the Germany club had also donated a further 1,000 euros to help support victims of the terrorist attacks in Manchester and London.

The Cannock club, now in its 82nd year, has a number of established fundraising events arranged, including the annual 10k road race in November and the Christmas party for local elderly and disabled people.

Road chaos as drivers face summertime blues

DRIVERS are facing a long hot summer of misery on the roads as five main Staffordshire routes undergo work.

Hilltop in Hednesford, Five Ways Island in Heath Hayes and the A34 in Cannock are among the major roads being ripped up for repairs along with the A513 in Milford and Beaconside in Stafford.

Hilltop will be closed from July 31 until August 11 while the county council looks to fix potholes. Five Ways will shut from August 21 to 30.

The first major disruption in Cannock Chase has begun with temporary traffic lights in place on the A34 Stafford Road. These will be in place until September 8 as Western Power Distribution digs trenches for a new electric supply. Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "It will be gridlock in the district, this should have been co-ordinated better."

Surface

In Stafford, starting next Monday, the A513, linking Milford and Weeping Cross, will be shut in two phases. Severn Trent Water is working on the road's surface and the work should be finished in September.

In Beaconside, near the junction with the A34, the road will become a 30mph zone from today (Thursday) with a new set of traffic lights. The road is also set to become a dual carriageway with two more sets of lights, but this work is not expected to get under way until the turn of the year. The 30mph zone will be in place from the roundabout to the second Parkside Avenue junction until January 2019. It is normally a 50mph route.

Helen Fisher, county council cabinet support member for highways, said: "The work needs doing and it's been scheduled for a time when the volume of traffic begins to reduce.

"We do seek to co-ordinate work by utility companies and housing developers as much as possible, but it's inevitable that investment in the county means that infrastructure will have to be created, or upgraded, to support new housing and industrial estates."

Prince Harry on the red carpet with veteran George Wagner, aged 96, from Lichfield before the world premiere of Dunkirk in London

Dunkirk veteran on red carpet

A DUNKIRK veteran from Lichfield spoke of his heroic war efforts at the launch of a new movie about the historic evacuation.

George Wagner, 96, spoke with Prince Harry at Kensington Palace ahead of the premiere of the film chronicling the desperate Second World War evacuation of British troops.

Mr Wagner, who was sent to Europe in late 1939 with the Royal Engineers, recounted how he seized his opportunity to get off the beaches in the 1940 operation to save hundreds of thousands of servicemen.

He was given a private screening of the movie and said the sound of explosions brought back memories of the bombardment they faced as they tried to leave.

Mr Wagner said about the film: "It's got bags of bangs - that's what worries me is the bangs." He later joined Harry at the premiere and walked the red carpet.

Service in town that took campaigner to heart It was the place where she could be 'just Jill'

By David Banner

A SMALL coastal town in North Wales is to host a memorial service to commemorate and give thanks for the life of Jill Saward.

Friends and family will gather at St David's Church in Nefyn on Saturday, August 12 to say a final farewell to the inspirational campaigner.

Following the service, her widower, Gavin Drake, will scatter her ashes in the sea off Nefyn Beach, in accordance with her wishes. Meanwhile, her family have released a selection of photographs, some of which can be seen here, as a tribute to her.

News of the service comes after The Chronicle reported how Ms Saward's twin sister Sue Lancaster had vowed to continue her legacy.

Ms Saward, of Hednesford, died suddenly six months ago, aged 51. She chose Nefyn as her final resting place because of a long-running connection with the town which began in her late teens.

Holidays

Her first visit to Nefyn was as part of the annual beach mission, which she first served as part of the team when she was 18 in 1983.

After a decade on the mission, she stepped down but continued to take her annual holidays in the town during the mission fortnight. Her eldest son Myles is now a member of the beach mission team.

The people of Nefyn took Ms Saward to their heart following the brutal attack in the Ealing Vicarage in March 1986.

She visited the town several times a year and was always made welcome by the locals.

Her ground-breaking interview with Jenni Murray for the BBC One television programme Everyman: No Great Trauma was filmed in Nefyn.

"It was in Nefyn that Jill felt that she could be 'just Jill'," Mr Drake said. "She loved the people of Nefyn, and they loved her back."

£5,000 cashpot to help make roads safer

UP to £5,000 is being made available for ideas on how to make the county's roads safer.

The Staffordshire Safer Roads Partnership is organising the trial scheme to community groups in Staffordshire to help improve road safety.

Proposals could include speed watch groups and activities with schools such as walking buses. However, projects must be community-led.

Councillor Mark Deaville, cabinet member for commercial at Staffordshire County Council, said: "We are always looking at creative ways of making our roads safer and this will give local communities the chance to make a real positive difference in their neighbourhoods." The first wave of funding will be open for applications between August 1 and September 14, with funding available for a minimum of 40 schemes over the first two years.

Further information or to make an application to the Staffordshire Road Safety Grant Fund is available at staffssaferroads.co.uk

Bosses at super hub battle firm step down

TOP executives at parcel delivery group DX have left the business as part of a major shake-up.

The company, which employs around 550 people at two major depots in Willenhall, said it had been 'an exceptionally challenging year'.

DX failed in its bid to build a £36 million super hub in Essington, following fierce objections from villagers. The company has said it is now looking elsewhere for an alternative site, possibly Rugby or Coventry.

In April, the firm announced it had slumped to a £500,000 loss amid a 'challenging' trading background, higher costs and lower profit margins.

On Friday, the company revealed that chief executive officer Petar Cveticovic and finance director Daljit Basi had stepped down from the company. At the same time, the business is being split in two, as DX Express and DX Freight.

The company said the reorganisation 'is expected to provide greater flexibility in managing costs and puts the company in a better position to advance its operational and sales performance and to provide an enhanced service to its customers'.

Meanwhile, DX has scored a number of contract wins, including renewing its deal with HM Passport Office.

DX chairman Bob Holt said: "The changes we are making both to the board of directors and to the group's operational structure are aimed at supporting business transformation."

"In particular the reorganisation provides greater flexibility in managing costs and puts the company in a better position to advance its operational and sales performance."

Advice for firms on how to expand

SMALL and medium-sized Staffordshire businesses can find out more about how they could get the backing to transform under-utilised buildings into productive use and access a range of support at an event this month.

The Grow Your Workspace workshop on July 27 will help businesses understand Staffordshire County Council's Rural Enterprise Programme and how to apply for grants.

There will also be a presentation by Cannock Chase Council's planning team and talks on the Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent Growth Hub and the Low Carbon Business Evolution Programme.

The event takes place at the Aquarius Ballroom and Function Suite in Hednesford, at 2pm. To sign up, visit grantsandplanningworkshop.eventbrite.co.uk

Consumers missing out on option to try a meter

THOUSANDS of households across the Midlands could be missing out on lower water bills because they are unaware they can trial a meter for up to two years, the Consumer Council for Water (CCWater) has warned.

The consumer watchdog is concerned only one in five water customers of Severn Trent Water and South Staffs Water who pay fixed charges know they can trial a meter and switch back for free if they do not save money or decide it is not for them.

The findings emerged from CCWater's Water Matters survey, which also showed that one in eight water customers felt their water bills were not affordable.

CCWater is now urging customers to use its online water meter calculator to see whether they might be better off switching to a meter, before taking the plunge.

Professor Bernard Crump, central and eastern chair of the Consumer Council for Water, said: "A water meter will not benefit everyone but we know that in some cases households can save more than £100 a year.

"Even the smallest saving could make all the difference to customers who are struggling to make ends meet. Almost everyone who opts for a meter chooses to stick with it, but many customers need that assurance they can switch back anytime within the trial period."

Action on homes plan vital – MP

AN MP has said 'action must be taken' to prevent plans for more than 100 homes being approved.

Gavin Williamson, MP for South Staffordshire, has welcomed the extension for the public to object against a planning application to build over 100 homes on land off Upper Landywood Lane, Great Wyrley.

Following an intervention by the MP, South Staffordshire District Council has extended the time allowed for the public to voice their concerns.

Time for commenting on the planning application had originally closed but has now been extended to August 26. Mr Williamson said: "Action must be taken now so that this planning can be stopped with immediate effect."

Hughes homecoming 'will be unique'

Cannock musician Glenn Hughes

FANS of rock legend Glenn Hughes have been promised a 'unique' and 'intimate' experience when he returns for a show in his hometown.

The Deep Purple star, who now lives in Los Angeles, will be coming to Cannock's Premier Suite on Thursday, July 27.

Those going along will get to see a short film about his time in the band, an interview with him conducted by radio DJ Nicky Horne, and an acoustic set, while fans paying for premium packages will get to meet and have their photograph taken with the star.

Premier Suite owner Scott Murray said: "It will be very up close and personal, which I don't think people realise. He is coming home, and it will be a fabulous and special evening.

"Unlike with his other gigs, this will be very intimate and quite unique, very much like we did for Tiffany when she came back here.

"People will get to hear about his time in Deep Purple, Trapeze, as well as when he went into the Betty Ford Clinic, and about what he's doing now with Black Country Communion. It's just going to be a great night." Earlier this year, Hughes, now 64, hinted he was working on a new album out of Sunset Studio in Hollywood.

It has been an incredibly mixed 12 months for the rocker bookended by the deaths of both of his parents.

His father William died at the age of 90 in April 2016 and then his mother Sheila passed away this February.

Tickets for 'An Up Close and Personal Evening with Glenn Hughes' cost £25 for standard entry. VIP packages costing £95 are still available. Visit www.premier-suite.co.uk/ or call 01543 572092 to book tickets.

School finally gets nod despite parking fears

PLANS for a much-needed primary school in Hednesford have finally been approved despite serious concerns over parking.

The new 210-place academy will be built off Pye Green Road to complement a major housing development after planning chiefs unanimously gave it the green light.

But in a heated debate, Cannock Chase councillors hit out at Staffordshire County Council, which is behind the plans for the school.

Labour councillors had had the decision over the school deferred twice before the matter was finally resolved at a planning committee meeting last week. Councillors had asked the county council to look at the possibility of a pick-up/drop-off facility for the school, which the authority refused to implement.

It also told the district councillors that there was 'no plan B' as there was nowhere for the children from the new housing development to go to school if this plan was not approved.

The unhappy Labour councillors eventually budget and voted for the school to be built, despite maintaining their concerns over parking.

Stuart Lane, from Staffordshire County Council, said after the meeting: "The county council is very pleased with the decision, and we look forward to working with Cannock council. Good healthy debate never hurt anyone." During the meeting, the county council insisted it was not its policy to build on-site parking for parents unless in exceptional circumstances.

But this was met with much disagreement. Councillor Doris Grice said: "We do need parking. Times change and families change, this school will be there for a long time."

The strongest opposition came from the vice-chair of the committee, Councillor Alan Pearson, who said: "I know we are going to have problems with parking."

But Conservative councillors were adamant the plans should be approved.

Councillor Paul Snape, leader of the Tory group on the council, said: "We need this school, we are a growing population."

Countdown is on for Chase It!

Councillor Christine Mitchell and local children look forward to the Chase It! activities

ORGANISERS of the Chase It! programme have promised a packed line-up full of activities for children and young people.

The Chase It! Summer 2017 brochure includes activities for five-to-15-year-olds in Cannock Chase throughout the summer holidays. Delivered by Inspiring Healthy Lifestyles on behalf of Cannock Chase Council, the programme features days out, activity camps, sports sessions and arts sessions.

The programme runs from Monday, July 24 and finishes with a summer extravaganza on Friday, August 25 at Chase Leisure Centre. Councillor Christine Mitchell, portfolio leader for culture and sport, said: "Activities are always popular so I would urge parents to book early."

To request a brochure contact the Chase It! bookings officer on 01543 501519 or email chaseit@wlc.org or download a copy from www.inspiringhealthylifestyles.org/WLCT/cannock/news/chase-it.htm

NEWS IN BRIEF

Staff raise £2.4k for pets charity

THE staff at Pets at Home in Cannock are celebrating after they raised £2,427 to help homeless pets.

For four weeks, the store team worked hard to raise money for animal rescues in and around Cannock, as part of an initiative being run by independent charity Support Adoption For Pets.

The Cannock store was joined by local animal charity Small Dog Rescue to help with the fundraising efforts.

Customers were invited to support the campaign by purchasing a 'Scratch and Match' card, with the chance to win one of 200,000 prizes and in turn donating £1 to the charity.

Consultation on police and fire

A PUBLIC consultation over moves for Staffordshire's police and fire services to come under the banner of the Police & Crime Commissioner (PCC) has been launched.

Staffordshire PCC Matthew Ellis has launched the eight-week consultation to allow people to have their say on plans for both services to be managed by his office in the future.

An independent report suggests the move would improve the way the two services work together, speed up delivery of new ideas, and be better value for money.

Health watchdog wins top award

A STAFFORDSHIRE health watchdog has scooped a national award for its work with volunteers.

Healthwatch Staffordshire was named winner of the volunteering category for Healthwatch England Network's annual awards evening.

The honour marked the contribution made by its network of 60 unpaid workers.

Chief executive Jan Sensier said: "Our volunteers make a massive contribution to our work in the community, so we see this award as a tribute to them."

Mess of messages with host of posters

IT'S great to see that the Wolverhampton Fiesta is back in rude health once more, attracting thousands of visitors to the city's West Park and evoking memories of the huge crowds during the sizzling hot summers during the 1970s.

How sad then, that an event which has the potential to do so much for the area, should be promoted in such an anti-social manner. Walking around Dudley last week, I noticed that practically every empty shop unit in Dudley – and yes, there are plenty of them – has been daubed with unsightly fly-posters promoting the Fiesta.

To be fair, it's not just the Fiesta, there are also posters for wrestling matches, funfairs and other events, but I would have expected better from the Wolverhampton Fiesta, a prestigious event to fly the flag for the area.

Of course, it may well be an external promoter which is responsible for this eyesore, without the knowledge of the event organisers. If so, I hope they will (a) think again about who they do business with in future, and (b) make sure the posters are removed immediately.

At a time when our town centres are struggling so hard for survival, the very last thing they need is scruffy, fading posters peeling from the windows of empty properties for months on end. And it is no good our councils spending hundreds of thousands of pounds on cosmetic improvements to our towns when they are being ruined by this hideous eyesore.

BEWARE, Big Brother is watching you. According to consumer watchdog group Which?, the growing number of internet connected devices around our homes makes us more vulnerable than ever of being spied on.

One of the devices said to be particularly vulnerable is the i-Kettle, which begs the question of why you would want your kettle connected up to the worldwide web in the first place. Apparently, the main benefit is that you can use your mobile phone to boil the kettle from the comfort of your own bed, although the flaw in the system is that you then have to go to the kitchen to actually make your cuppa. And of course drink it.

But that's nothing. There is now such as thing as a smart toilet, which means that even people's ablutions are now linked up to the information super-highway. Or too-much-information super-highway as I'm feeling inclined to call it.

The mind boggles at why the Russian baddies would want to hack into that.

Irritating modern language quirks are just not tennis

Johanna Konta, who is known for her perfect English as well as her tennis exploits

One man on a boat – Rory McCann, who is Sandor "The Hound" Clegane in G.O.T.

So, Jeremy Vine is really fed-up of using a particular word at the start of a sentence

Jo's lovely English is certainly not a racket

A READER asks after my recent item on the Cornish Republican Army (CRA), what initials would the CRA use if it had a Provisional wing? No prizes.

JOHANNA Konta plays a great game of tennis. But I'm just as impressed with her spoken English. In an age of lazy, grunting, consonant-dropping Estuary English where the phrase "Do you know what I mean?" is usually truncated to "jinarnin?" Konta is a beacon of clarity. Born in Australia to Hungarian parents, she proper speaks the Queen's English

AS the seventh season of Game of Thrones kicks off on Sky, I am reminded of a sunny day in Scotland a few months ago. I was waiting for a ferry to a remote island when I was joined at the slipway by the most handsome man I have ever beheld. He was tall, dark and designer-stubbled and he spoke with a gentle Scottish accent as he offered me a lift across. The crossing took about 20 minutes and as his battered old boat pop-popped along, we got chatting. He said, in a smiling, self-mocking way, that he was an actor "from time to time." Anyway, long story short, he turned out to be Rory McCann, better known to Thrones fans as the tormented and hate-driven Sandor "The Hound" Clegane. On the screen, a mass killer with his axe dripping with entrails. In real life, a nice bloke.

SO farewell, at least for the time being, to Doctor Who and those weekly encounters with time-bending travel. Strange to report, but real life has its share of wormholes and time-slips.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

Take the curious fact that we are preparing for Mrs Rhodes's 37th birthday at the weekend, even though I could swear we met 45 years ago.

A READER admits she's alarmed at my recent item on "toilet plumes" which, according to new research, can spread microscopic faecal particles up to 15 feet, unless you close the lid before flushing. Her problem is that her backyard WC has no lid, and what can I advise? A 16-foot pole and some running shoes.

THE Lake District has been awarded Unesco World Heritage status. So that's more tourists, more litter, more cars crawling through Ambleside and along Windermere. Just what it needs, eh? I know and love a particularly beautiful part of England. It rarely appears in the guide books and it would never dream, I hope, of applying for World Heritage status. Years ago, a friend who is a countryside writer was invited to write about his favourite places in England. He produced the book but kept his really favourite places out of it. There is a lot to be said for keeping secrets secret.

MORE on the theme of holiday-envy. A reader told one of her friends she'd be taking a month-long break in the United States. The response was: "Well, you're lucky. I only had a week in Paignton." So good holidays are a matter of luck, are they? My reader takes the view that the harder she works, the luckier she gets.

IN any case, you don't have to cross the Atlantic to have a great holiday. I have a friend who has travelled the world and over the past few months has visited Japan and South America. She gets ridiculously excited about her annual week at Corfe Castle.

COLOUR TV was launched 50 years ago this month. One reader is reminded of his first encounter with the technology. He was at university and he recalls the "great excitement" as he and his fellow students prepared to watch international rugby in colour for the first time. What dazzling new dimension would colour bring to the game? Not much. The competing sides were England (all white) v New Zealand (all black).

JEREMY Vine says anyone starting a sentence with the word 'So . . .' should be given a fixed penalty notice. He has a point. The 'So . . .' epidemic infests every media interview. I have no idea where it came from or what the 'So . . .' brigade thinks it adds to the conversation. But I suspect that every generation has its opening line which in time makes way for something new. Back in the 1960s, one particular opener became so commonplace, and so damn irritating, that Monty Python gave us John Cleese as a spokesman for the British Well Basically Club. And what did Cleese tell us? Well, basically . . .

TALKING POINT

Stress in store will put you off your trolley

FOR many years the big high street names have been battling for our custom.

It's been buy one, get one free on this; take advantage of three for two on that (while stocks last, of course); and don't forget the larger size works out cheaper.

No wonder that when faced with the mind-boggling sums we're expected to work out while blocking the supermarket aisles, many shoppers have tried to weigh up whether it is better to give up, go home and give in to internet shopping.

And no wonder there is so much tension these days, what with getting to the shops, finding what you want, working out which is the fastest-moving checkout queue, and then . . . and then preparing for the inquisition.

You know how it goes. "Hi, all right?" is usually the checkout operative's opening move. Before you've had chance to reply, you're hit with "Do you need a bag?", "Have you got a loyalty/bonus card?", "Did you find what you were looking for today?", and finally "Can I interest you in our special offer of a bottle of water/bar of chocolate?" Fumbling around for something, anything, with which to pay, it's that second question, about the loyalty/bonus card that plays on the mind.

Is it really worth searching for said card in your purse, wallet, pocket or bag when you have so many of the damn things and that queue is stretching halfway across the shop? Of course it is, you tell yourself.

So, is there an answer to all this hassle? Maybe, but it will take a fair amount of work by the retailers. Like so many ideas, it came to me while waiting in a checkout queue – thumbprint recognition.

I've lost count of the number of cards I've had stamped or scanned in supermarkets, pubs and coffee shops, often with barely visible ink, or so smudged that the next stamp threatens to merge into one great blob.

The technology is already there to enable smartphones to be unlocked by a unique user, and an increasing number of people are willing to go contactless at the point of payment. Imagine being able to clock up bonus points or take a step towards a free cup of coffee in such a quick and efficient way.

Yes there would be the usual stumbling blocks of data protection, identity theft and the cost of installing the equipment but the digital age is advancing at such a ferocious pace that I'm sure everything could be in place for Christmas, and let's face it, what better incentive is there for the shops to get even more of us spending more, at their busiest time of the year.

School's delight at 'outstanding' rating

Support pair honoured

TWO Staffordshire women who set up a support group network have received a national honour.

Daphne Sharp and Elaine Dunlop, both of Stafford, have been given a British Citizen Award for their services to the community.

Daphne, aged 67, and Elaine, 62, established Monthly Alzheimer's Support Evenings (MASE) in 2009 following the death of Daphne's 61-year-old brother, who had lived with the condition. Elaine also lost her mother in 2007, following several years of living with dementia. The charity is unsupported and has two other trustees - Daphne and Elaine's respective husbands Richard and Jim. Fundraising enables the group to supply a buffet, refreshments and entertainment for each of the meetings, which are held at five different venues in Cannock, Haughton, Hednesford, Rugeley and Stafford each month.

Ian Christian, a partner from law firm Irwin Mitchell presented Daphne and Elaine with their awards alongside TV presenter Michael Underwood. The women were nominated by MASE members Mary Simpson and Robert Pitcher.

AN inspector of church schools has rated St Peter's CofE Primary in Hednesford as 'outstanding' for its 'inspirational leadership'.

The rating was also given because 'every pupil is known, loved and supported as an individual'.

Church schools undergo two types of inspection - Ofsted, and the Statutory Inspection of Anglican and Methodist Schools (SIAMS), which determines the distinctiveness and effectiveness of the school in terms of its demonstration and commitment to Christian values.

In her report, inspector Rosemary Woodward said pupils 'take great pride in their school' and displayed St Peter's values of thankfulness, trust, humility, endurance, forgiveness and friendship in daily life, linking them to biblical teaching.

Proud

She also acknowledged that the 'engaging curriculum is effective in actively promoting pupils' spiritual and moral development, and pupils are well supported on their learning journey'.

The report also praised the partnership between the school and nearby St Peter's Church.

Headteacher Samantha Price said: "I am extremely proud of everyone at St Peter's. "To be rated as 'outstanding' is a wonderful achievement.

"The report reflects the great teamwork of all stakeholders and recognises how hard we have persevered to ensure that Christian principles underpin all of our endeavours."

Chair of governors Gail Velasquez said: "The governors are delighted that the SIAMS report describes the school we all know and love."

Ofsted last inspected the school in May 2014 and acknowledged the school as being 'good'.

Don't let holiday be ruined by asthma

THE school summer holiday is a time children look forward to all year; a time to relax, enjoy the outdoors and get stuck into their favourite hobbies.

It's easy to see how routines can go out of the window once summer hits, which is why Asthma UK are launching a campaign urging parents to maintain their child's usual preventer medicine routine over the school break.

This will help to protect their child from an asthma attack both during the summer holiday and once they go back to school. Every 10 seconds someone has a potentially life-threatening asthma attack in the UK, and three people die from an attack every day.

In September, children are nearly three times more likely to be admitted to hospital because of an asthma attack than in August, partly due to seasonal triggers such as cold and flu viruses. If a child hasn't kept up their preventer medicine routine over the school holidays, they will be at greater risk of reacting to these triggers.

Parents who have any concerns about their child's asthma can speak to our team of expert nurses by calling the Asthma UK Helpline on 0300 222 5800 (Mon-Fri; 9am-5pm), and can download an action plan from by visiting www.asthma.org.uk/advice/safer-school-holidays.

We're here to combat loneliness

AT Independent Age, the older people's charity, we're always trying to help as many older people as possible.

Right now, we want to encourage older people who may be feeling lonely to get in touch with us to find out about our friendship services, which could help to reduce loneliness.

Many of the older people we help have told us that it can make a huge difference to their wellbeing if they have a call to look forward to each week or fortnight.

Older people who would like to receive regular calls from a volunteer can sign up at www.independentage.org/get-support/receive-regular-phone-calls-or-visits or by calling 0800 319 6789.

We should be told all the college facts

IN the private sector, spending £6 million on a refurbishment and closing the building four years later would probably result in the company going broke and the executives who spent the money getting the sack.

As South Staffordshire College spent money on the old mining college that the taxpayer has been forced to borrow for a wild pipedream, no doubt the executives responsible have resigned? Ah, thought not.

If someone had the power to dismiss them, they would no doubt get a large severance payment and full public sector pension.

I guess the planned job losses will be at the lower end of the pay scale, as normal. Can we be enlightened as to precisely what has happened?

Fun speaker gives food for thought

Etching Hill WI

FOOD Glorious Food was the subject of the talk given by Kath Reynolds. She focused on a miscellany of food items from years gone by and was sure that "members were far too young to remember most of them."

She spoke first of the Be-Ro Home Recipe book which was used by housewives before the onset of convenience food. One of the first convenience items was ready-made pastry mix, particularly flaky pastry which would have had so many processes when it was made from scratch.

Fray Bentos steak and kidney pies would have taken any effort out of cooking but Kath reminded everyone it was important to take off the lid before cooking as she had known of someone who hadn't whose oven door had blown off.

HP Sauce has been around since 1903 and Heinz tomato sauce since 1872. In 1814 Jeremiah Colman created mustard. Hovis bread has been around since the 1880s. Alfred Bird created Birds Custard in 1837.

Fast forward to 1962 and Vesta Curries were introduced, and around the same time instant mashed potatoes such as Smash. There was instant trifle which looked most unappetising from the picture Kath showed. The talk was full of memories and fun.

Future dates were discussed for an outing to the theatre to see The Dreaming at Lichfield Garrick.

Warm welcome to two new members

Marion Taylor, president Val Jones, Jackie Prince and president-elect June Bould

CANNOCK Soroptimists were delighted to welcome two new members at their last business meeting.

President Val Jones inducted Jackie Prince and Marion Taylor as members, adding she was proud of the club's success in attracting new members particularly when, in today's society, women have many competing demands and pressures upon them.

Marion has spent her working life in pharmacy departments and is now retired. Jackie has worked for West Midlands Police as a member since 1988 fulfilling many roles. Her current role is as a training officer teaching ICT systems to officers and police staff. She is trained to assist in major incidents and also enjoys her work mentoring younger staff members.

Jackie said they had been thrilled to have been welcomed so warmly on each of the occasions they had attended SI Cannock meetings and saying how much they were looking forward to having an involvement in the work of the club and the organisation.

They had each read of Soroptimists in the Press; the work they did and the fun they had appealed so, they made an approach and were invited along to a meeting.

Talk builds mansion memories

HEDNESFORD Guild welcomed Ian Bott who gave a talk entitled 'Lost Mansion Houses'.

The illustrated talk was well presented complete with Ian's own brand of humour.

Meanwhile, the Luncheon

Hednesford A TG

Club enjoyed a good social meal at The Lock House at Great Hayward.

Four members attended the national AGM in Sheffield. The audience was entertained by speaker Anna Turney, a former British Paralympian, and Peter Slack, a third-generation Peak District hill farmer.

Guild meetings are held on the second Monday of each month. Details from Doreen on 01543 877987.

School has new shed thanks to donation

PYE Green Academy has installed a new shed in which to store equipment following a donation from Barratt Homes West Midlands.

The firm gave £350 to the school for the shed, which will be used by the Parents, Teachers and Friends Association (PTFA) to house equipment for events. The school benefited from the financial boost as it is the school nearest Bilberry Chase, a Barratt West Midlands development.

Laura Smallwood, from the PTFA, said: "We needed a place to store our equipment for school events, as space in the school itself is at a premium. Barratt was kind enough to offer us this donation and we're very grateful to them for going out of their way to help us."

Graydon Worthing, sales director at Barratt Homes West Midlands, said: "We want to create great communities as well as great new homes."

'Irreversible damage' claim over rail freight hub plans

A PROPOSAL to create two parks at a planned rail freight hub in the Staffordshire countryside has been criticised as a 'cheap bribe'.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson said if the 700-acre West Midlands Interchange project at Four Ashes got the go-ahead it would be an 'enormous tragedy'.

The developer, Four Ashes Ltd, has launched a second consultation on the scheme and says it will create 8,500 jobs and £400 million for the local economy.

It has also promised new parks at Croft Lane and off Straight Mile.

But Mr Williamson said it would cause 'traffic chaos' and 'irreversible damage' to the environment and green belt with 'monolithic' warehouses.

The MP also warned that if approved, the project could be just the first of several phases to affect the area.

"The park plan is a cheap bribe that no-one will fall for," he said. Four Ashes Ltd managing director Peter Frost said independent studies showed the road network can cope with any increase in traffic.

He has called on residents to think about the economic benefit.

Public exhibitions as part of the consultation are taking place today (Thursday) at the Haling Dene Centre, Penkridge, 3pm to 8pm; tomorrow at Calf Heath Village Hall, 2pm to 7pm; and Saturday at Coven Memorial Hall, 10am to 2pm.

Lydia now in charge at Cannock centre

CAPTAIN Lydia Bartlett is the Salvation Army's new Commanding Officer for Cannock.

She replaces Major Nigel Govier, who after six years in Cannock is moving to the Kettering centre.

He said at his farewell meeting that his time in Cannock had been 'an amazing six years'.

Lydia's previous post was command of the centre in Oldbury.

She will be installed at a public meeting at the centre in Walhouse Street at 7pm on Saturday.

"I am very happy to be coming and look forward to meeting the people of Cannock," she said.

Dr Harj Gill, the owner, has 17 years' experience of working within the NHS.

Our patients are our top priority. We are committed to increasing access to quality dental care, providing our patients with a clear choice of treatment options, so they receive the right dental care to meet their needs.

As part of every check-up, your dentist will carry out a thorough examination and check for the early signs of mouth cancer.

Please do talk about the examination with your dentist – they will be more than happy to talk through exactly what they are doing, where they are looking, and what they are looking for.

If you are one of the many nervous patients who think visiting a dentist is a frightening experience, come and meet

Quality dentistry in the heart of Cannock Town

Parents 'don't realise dental care is FREE for children'

A third of parents don't realise dental care is free for children. A survey revealed that the public is reluctant to visit the dentist due to a host of misconceptions over the cost of dental care.

Nearly half (48%) of respondents didn't realise under-19s in full-time education also receive free dental care and 34% didn't realise pregnant women or those who have given birth in the past year are also entitled to free treatment. Despite oral health improving in children in recent decades, the number one reason for hospital admissions remains tooth decay, even though children receive free treatment.

We aim to raise awareness among parents so that children are taken to the dentist regularly to prevent problems developing. Simple things like painting fluoride on children's teeth from an early age twice a year can make a real difference, while regular visits to the dentist should be a given.

Staff from Penkridge-based PSR Solutions celebrate after winning the Business of the Year award

A PENKRIDGE recruitment firm specialising in the construction industry has been hailed as the best business in Staffordshire.

PSR Solutions walked away with the Business of the Year award at the Staffordshire Business Awards.

More than 420 guests gathered at the Staffordshire County Showground for the presentation ceremony.

An array of businesses were crowned with awards spanning over 14 categories, including PSR Solutions who walked away with the blue riband award for their all-round performance across a range of attributes. The company also won the Medium/Large Business of the Year award.

Computer consultancy risual, based in Stafford, won the Digital Award, while the Environmental/Low Carbon Award went to Stone Computers, based at Acton Gate.

Manufacturer of the Year was sheet metal manufacturer Alpha Manufacturing, based at Hixon. Small Business of the Year was the Wool Packaging Company in Stone. Young Employee or Apprentice of the Year went to both Chloe Quaile of KMF Group and Louise Meredith from JCB.

Sara Williams, chief executive at Staffordshire Chambers of Commerce, said: "The evening was a fantastic celebration of business success across Staffordshire."

Chase earmarked in Brum bid for Games

CANNOCK Chase will host mountain biking races, should Birmingham host the 2022 Commonwealth Games, it is understood.

The UK's second city is vying with Liverpool to host the international sporting competition in five years' time.

Several venues have been confirmed by the bid team - the vast majority within Birmingham - including Alexander Stadium and Symphony Hall.

And the leaders of both Cannock Chase and Wolverhampton councils have said that it has been agreed mountain biking would be held on the Chase. Councillor George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase council, said:

"As part of the bid, there will be various locations, and mountain biking on Cannock Chase is included in the bid."

"Biking is popular on the Chase, so it is logical to hold that there. It is great news, and we will be delighted

Competing on Cannock Chase

if the bid is successful." Bosses behind the bid would not confirm Cannock Chase as a venue for the Games.

Councillor Ian Ward, deputy leader of Birmingham City Council and chair of the Birmingham 2022 Steering Group, said they are in a 'competitive process' and 'will be making further announcements in the near future'.

This weekend, the British Cycling National Mountain Bike Cross-country Championships will be held on Cannock Chase.

Mark Swinnerton, who runs Swinnerton Cycles Forest Centre on the Chase, said he would welcome the Commonwealth Games but that work may need to be done ahead of such a high-profile competition.

He added: "They do hold some events here already on Forestry Commission land, and a couple of years ago they bid to host a World Cup race here, but were unsuccessful."

"If the Games were to be here it would be fantastic news for the area."

"Any events they do hold on the Chase, they normally do it in a particular area. Ultimately this is a small area criss-crossed by roads so to create a controlled race area isn't an easy thing." Should the bid be successful, Sandwell could host swimming and diving but no events are planned for Wolverhampton, Walsall or Dudley.

Artist puts his stamp on Sir Tom artwork

Pete Mason has created a picture of Tom Jones completely out of stamps

IT'S Not Unusual for artists to paint portraits of singing stars like Sir Tom Jones but now, the Welsh icon has been transformed into an intricate art piece made of almost 3,000 used postage stamps.

The man behind the work is 72-year-old Hednesford man Pete Mason, who has been inspired by Sir Tom's shows in Lichfield and at Cannock Chase.

Mr Mason said: "I've kept the background simple, and just done it in five different colours and tones of greens, to represent his song The Green Green Grass of Home."

"A lot of people have said the eyes are just right as they'd expect them to be for Tom Jones. There's about 2,800 stamps altogether, they're all used postage stamps."

"I tried to get some stamps with Welsh references for him. People of my age, we've followed Tom Jones through, and I'm a fan of his. I've done one of Frank Sinatra, and I'm a big fan of his as well," he added.

Number of jobless remains the same

UNEMPLOYMENT stayed at 166,000 in the West Midlands for the three months to May, while nationally the figure was down 64,000 to 1.49 million – the lowest level since 2005.

Figures from the Office for National Statistics (ONS) saw numbers claiming unemployment benefits, including Jobseeker's Allowance, in the West Midlands fall by 1,170 to 86,475 last month.

Nationally, there was an increase of 6,000 to 829,000.

Across Staffordshire claimant numbers rose by 85 to 5,625 (1.1 per cent) with Stafford down 30 at 755 (0.9 per cent) and Cannock Chase having a fall of 25 to 805 (1.3 per cent).

South Staffordshire bucked the trend with a rise of 25 to 790 (1.2 per cent) and Lichfield also had an increase of 10 to 455 (0.7 per cent).

In Wolverhampton, there was a fall of 145 to 6,770 – 4.2 per cent of the working population. Walsall saw 45 fewer claimants at 4,995 (three per cent), Dudley was down 25 to 805 (three per cent) and Sandwell had a fall of 20 to 7,215 (3.6 per cent).

UK employment reached a record high as the number of people in work climbed to around 32 million, a rise of 324,000 compared to last year and the largest total since records began in 1971.

The ONS said average earnings grew by 1.8 per cent in the year to May, down by 0.3 per cent on the previous month.

The employment rate rose by 0.3 per cent on the quarter to a record high of 74.9 per cent and the unemployment rate also dropped by 0.2 per cent on the quarter to 4.5 per cent.

14 Graduate's designs go on display

The Chronicle Thursday, July 20, 2017

AN art school graduate from the University of Wolverhampton had designs on success at the New Designers (ND) event in London.

The event, at the Business Design Centre in Islington, London, showcases more than 3,000 promising graduate talents.

Graduates from the Wolverhampton School of Art's Fashion & Textiles, Applied Arts - Glass & Ceramics and Visual Communications - Graphic Design & Illustration BA (Hons) degree courses exhibited a selection of their work at the annual three-week event - including Toni Louise Magee, aged 27, from Burntwood.

She said: "It was such a great experience to showcase my graduate collection in a big city to people from the fashion industry as well as members of the public."

Plan lodged to fell trees

PLANS in Burntwood received by Lichfield District Council include:

14 Cheshire Close - felling and replacement of trees.

29 St Pauls Road, - felling of ash tree.

Holly Lodge, 19 Meg Lane - extension to side to form dining area.

10 Victory Avenue - extension to form kitchen, utility, WC, garage, bedroom with en suite and roof terrace.

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Get in on the act with summer sport festival

MORE than 50 free classes and activities are on offer at a festival of sport across Lichfield district - with Burntwood playing host to some of the disciplines.

A number of free taster sessions are being offered by the district council to showcase its range of activities and classes. People are invited to take part between July 24 and 30.

Events are taking place at both Burntwood and Friary Grange leisure centres with free classes to choose from, including walking football, legs, tums and bums, aqua circuit, boot camp, indoor cycling and more. Additionally, there will be two free sessions in the Inspire Fitness gym available to anyone over 14 years of age.

Dodgeball

Youngsters can chance their arm at a number of free coaching course tasters, including tennis, football, trampolining, dance, dodgeball, judo and a parent and toddler class.

Parks are getting in on the action, with outdoor archery at Chase Terrace Park, Dodgeball at Redwood Park, family yoga at Burntwood Park, parkour at Cherry Close and a range of daily sports sessions at

By David Banner

Beacon Park, in Lichfield. Councillor Iain Eadie, cabinet member for leisure, said: "With so many free tasters over the week, there is really something to suit all tastes. This is why we hope plenty of people will take a look at the line-up of activities and try out something new."

"There should be something for everyone, whatever fitness level, age or interest, so come and take part."

During the Festival of Sport, dips in the leisure centres' pools are on offer for children at 50p, when accompanied by a full paying adult during public swim times.

For the full programme go to www.activelichfield.co.uk/festivalofsport.

Katie Lloyd, her mother Jan and sister-in-law Cheryl dressed as Land Girls

Clock goes back in 40s celebration

CROWDS turned back the clock for a 1940s style knees-up.

Cheryl Lloyd of Burntwood was joined by relatives to dress as Land Girls, donning period dress at the Black Country Living Museum in Dudley for a taste of wartime Britain.

Cheryl, aged 44, visited the popular attraction in Tipton Road with her mother and sister-in-law.

She said: "There was a real feel-good factor. It was fantastic to see everyone dressed up."

Carnivals and events were held across the region over the weekend as part of the Black Country Festival celebrations. There was an event in Bilston High Street staged by Bilston and Willenhall Lions and a huge fiesta at Wolverhampton's West Park with monster trucks and a fairground.

Firm's help to couple's fundraising

A BUILDING firm has donated £2,000 towards a couple's efforts on the journey of a lifetime.

Cameron Homes of Chasetown has assisted the fundraising efforts of Adam and Laura Alderson who are aiming to collect around £20,000 by taking part in the Mongol Rally, a 15,000-mile motoring adventure, covering 24 countries through rough terrain across Europe and Asia. The housebuilders are giving £1,500 to their target - to be split between Macmillan Cancer Support and research into rare cancer, pseudomyxoma peritonei.

Two years ago Adam had been diagnosed with PMP and had been told there was no more surgeons could do for him. He became one of the first people in the world to successfully undergo a multi-organ transplant.

Upgrade for mobile users

MOBILE phone provider Vodafone UK has introduced 4G to its network in the Burntwood area as part of its multi-billion network modernisation programme.

It means a more reliable mobile data experience, faster data download and upload speeds and better video quality.

A Vodafone UK spokesman said: "The arrival of 4G to the area can help local businesses improve productivity."

Businessman is charged over fireworks tragedy

A BUSINESSMAN has been charged with two counts of manslaughter over a huge fireworks blaze three years ago which killed two people.

SP Plastics, in Baswich, went up in flames on October 30, 2014 in a major incident which took more than 50 firefighters to tackle.

Father-of-one Simon Hillier, aged 41, from Hednesford, had been helping out at the business on the day but died in the blaze. And 57-year-old father-of-three Stewart Staples, also from Hednesford, who was a customer, also died in the fire. Now, after a lengthy investigation by Staffordshire Police and the Crown Prosecution Service, a man has been charged.

Answers

Richard Pearson, 43, of Holyrood Close, Stafford, faces two counts of manslaughter, accused of unlawfully killing both men by gross negligence in that he owed a duty of care for the storage and handling of fireworks undertaken at Unit 7, Tilcon Avenue.

A spokeswoman at Cannock Magistrates Court said he was set to appear there yesterday (Wednesday).

Last year, Lynn and Thomas Hillier, the parents of Simon Hillier, who was an England kickboxing champion for Featherstone kickboxing club, said their wait for answers had been 'absolute hell'. Mrs Hillier said at the time: "We'll never get closure I don't think. "But it is very important we get answers as to what happened. We still don't know anything."

Mr Hillier added: "We still can't get the gist of what happened." The flames raged for hours while a police cordon remained around the gutted building for several days. Pearson is listed by Companies House as a director of SP Plastics and Roofing Ltd, and is thought to be the firm's owner.

The flames raged for hours after the blaze was sparked at SP Plastics in Stafford

Within months of the blaze the company had gone into liquidation. The remains of the wreckage have been demolished but inquests have never taken place due to the ongoing criminal investigation. Staffordshire Police passed an initial file to the Crown Prosecution Service in August 2015 but they requested further evidence.

The force have previously said the 'total destruction' of the premises and the sheer volume of witnesses and experts consulted had led to a 'lengthy' and 'complicated' inquiry.

'Inadequate' school will get better, pledges head

THE head of a failing school has vowed to drag it out of special measures 'as soon as possible'.

Ofsted rated Staffordshire University Academy as inadequate after inspectors observed objects being thrown during lessons and a homophobic slur being used.

But Rowena Hillier, the head at the 600-pupil school in Hednesford, has vowed it will come out of special measures at the first possible opportunity.

She said: "We are not trying to hide anything. When we knew about the Ofsted report we sent a letter home to parents to inform them."

"A lot of what Ofsted highlighted we were working on already. For example the report mentions about a lack of provision for music and drama but we had already appointed a new head of service who will be starting in September for the new school year."

Drama

"We have also changed our head of year structure and made other new appointments to help us improve for the new school year."

Ofsted's report also highlighted concerns over teaching. Mrs Hillier accepted more improvements were needed which is why an action plan was in place, but added the school's results had improved since she took the helm two-and-a-half-years ago.

She added: "We hope parents, students and the local community will all give us the support we need to ensure we achieve a 'good' judgement during our next full inspection."

"We are determined to make rapid improvements and remain fully committed to help our students excel and be the best that they can be."

Fuel deliveries extended

DELIVERY times at a popular service station have been extended despite fears surrounding road safety and warnings a child could be knocked over.

The Morrisons filling station on Uxbridge Street in Hednesford can now take food and fuel deliveries between 7am and 7pm Monday to Saturday, and 10am to 4pm on Sundays and bank holidays. The station wanted to amended its previous hours of 5am to 7am for food deliveries and 7am and 8am for fuel as it said the window was too tight.

Cannock Chase Council's Conservative leader Councillor Paul Snape raised concerns that a child could end up being knocked down before and after school but the proposals were approved by the authority's planning committee.

JCB celebrates supply deal with Briggs

A CROSS-STAFFORDSHIRE deal has seen JCB celebrating one of the first orders for its new access equipment division.

Cannock-based Briggs Equipment, which sells and hires out forklift trucks and materials handling equipment, has snapped up 10 JCB scissor lifts including one model that can lift 320 kilos 10 metres in height. Briggs has invested more than £9.5 million so far this year on expanding its fleet of short-term hire equipment and will be doubling the number of access platforms, including scissor lifts, to 200 machines.

The deal is an important one for JCB, which has been developing and engineering a line-up of powered access machines in secret for the past two years.

By the end of 2017 the newly launched JCB Access business will be offering a total of 27 new platforms.

Sports-mad school is a winner four times over

REDHILL Primary School in Chads-moor is celebrating success four times over with its sports provision.

First, the school received notification that it was to receive a grant of £1,000 from the One Stop Carriers for Causes fund. The scheme is organised by the One Stop group of shops, who donate the proceeds of the 5p levy on carrier bags to deserving causes.

The funding will be used to enable the school to buy a range of sports equipment to be used in lessons and clubs.

Redhill then received news that it had been awarded Gamesmark Gold for the second successive year. The award celebrates sport and PE in primary schools, and to achieve the Gold level, schools must show a big commitment to participating in a wide range of activities both in and out of the curriculum and place a high prominence on sport in school.

News followed that Redhill had been awarded a grant of £3,000 from the Proceeds of Crime People Power fund, which is run by Staffordshire Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis. The grant will be used to provide a series of sports and leadership activities for the pupils both in and out of the curriculum by the community and education department of Walsall Football Club, with whom Redhill has many links already.

Finally, following an exciting season for the Redhill team, the school was awarded two new football kits for use next season.

The proprietor of TV Taxis of Cannock, Vic Simonczyk, made a donation of £500 from for a new kit second kit from the Premier League Primary Stars initiative, which is due to arrive in early September.

"All of the above are testament to the wonderful pupils of Redhill and their commitment to sport," sports teacher Paul Moberley said.

Advice on start-ups

A TWO-DAY business start-up course is to be held at Cannock Library.

Designed for would-be entrepreneurs in the early stages of planning their business, the course on July 31 and August 1 is part of Cannock Chase Council's Enterprise for Success programme.

The course is led by an experienced Blue Orchid business adviser and will cover a wide range of issues, from registering a business, to financial planning and business plan preparation.

The Enterprise for Success programme can provide individual and tailored support through the course and one-to-one advice sessions. Councillor

Gordon Alcott, portfolio leader for economic development and planning, said: "If you are thinking of setting up a new business, this new support programme provides useful information and advice to local residents to help sustain long-term success."

"The Cannock Chase district is a thriving area for local enterprise and business start-ups."

"We are committed to providing our residents with as much help and support in setting up a new business or becoming self-employed in 2017."

For more information on the course or to obtain advice on starting a business, call Blue Orchid on 0121 516 0330 or Cannock Chase Council's economic development team on 01543 464272.

Tread boards for summer fun

A WEEK of fun, games and theatrical exploration will end with youngsters showcasing what they have learned at the Lichfield Garrick.

Aimed at children aged eight-to-16, the workshop takes place in the Castle Dyke venue's studio theatre and is based on the theme of letters.

It is run by New Old Friends company and led by Heather Westwell and Feargus Woods Dunlop.

The week-long summer school workshop runs from August 14 to 18 and costs £150 per child. Sibling discounts are available. Places are limited and are on a first come, first served basis and must be booked through the theatre's box office on 01543 412121 or in person.

Carillion wins contract for work on HS2

WOLVERHAMPTON'S troubled construction giant Carillion is among the firms awarded contracts for the building of phase one of the HS2 rail line, the Government has announced.

The deals are worth £6.6 billion in total and will see tunnels, embankments and viaducts constructed between London and Birmingham with the work estimated to support 16,000 jobs.

A partnership featuring Carillion has been commissioned for two of the projects on the 190 km high speed line which will connect to the West Coast Main Line near Lichfield and is planned to open in 2026.

Charity donations worth the weight

Consultant Emma Taylor from Cedar Tree Brereton
GENEROUS slimmers have been donating the clothes they've slimmed out of to support a cancer charity.

Groups in Rugeley, Burntwood and Lichfield have collected 610 bags of clothes for The Big Slimming World Clothes Throw, which supports Cancer Research UK.

The clothes, shoes and accessories have come from members who slimmed out of their old wardrobes and feel confident they'll never need their 'before' clothes again.

With each bag worth around £25 to the charity, slimmer's have raised around £18,030 for the charity.

Last year, slimmers across the UK raised £2.1 million through donations and this year it's hoped the event will smash that target and raise £3 million for Cancer Research UK.

A Slimming World spokesman said: "The Clothes Throw has been a great chance for the members who have done so well to celebrate their amazing weight losses by saying goodbye to their 'before' clothes."

Keith Cochrane, interim chief executive of Carillion, said: "We are delighted that our joint venture, CEK, has been selected to deliver two of the three central contracts for HS2 phase one, the London to Birmingham section of the route. We look forward to working in close collaboration with HS2 to deliver this iconic project."

Carillion's share price tanked by more than 70 per cent last week after a profit warning and an £845 million write-off on construction contracts.

The CEK joint venture partnership consisting of Carillion, Biffage and Kier, has been successful in its bid for the C2 and C3 design and build contracts.

Develop

C2, valued at £724m, involves tunnels through the Chilterns to Brackley and the £616m-valued C3 involves the Brackley to Long Itchington Wood Green tunnel.

Stage one will be a 16-month period to develop a design, a programme and a target cost for the construction of the works. Stage two is the construction of the main works and is expected to take between four and five years to complete.

Transport Secretary Chris Grayling said: "This is a hugely important step in the construction of Britain's new railway."

Strawberry tea

CHURCHGOERS can enjoy strawberry tea in Heath Hayes next Saturday, July 29. Refreshments are available from £1.50 and a full strawberry tea for £5.50 at Bourne Methodist, Hednesford Road. Doors open at 4pm and there will be stalls.

On trail of adventure

YOUNG visitors to Shugborough Hall can get active outdoors by taking part in Explorers' Games from July 22 to September 3.

They can keep track of their scores on a trail map and pick up a special coin at the end.

The Great Big Tree Climbing Company will run from August 31 to September 1. Call 01889 880160.

Be patient the plea as works under way

MOTORISTS are being urged to be patient while work to complete access to a new homes development near Rugeley is carried out. Access to the development, on the A51 Lea Hall Way, has been created as a roundabout junction north of Wheelhouse Road.

To enable resurfacing work to be safely carried out, this section of the A51 is closed this week, with work having begun on Monday.

A roundabout junction will be built next to the old power station land and a new footpath and cycleway created. Traffic is being diverted along Wolseley Road, Western Springs Road, Horse Fair, Brereton Road and Brereton Hill.

A challenge to curry favour with food lovers

I CRASHED – and burned – as the Dilshad Inferno proved too hot to handle. And I was never going to snap their hands off to try the crocodile version.

So when owner Tony Uddin introduced his latest Man v Food-style challenge, I was hungry to try it out and I managed to find the time to have a go (I had a lot on my plate, you see).

The restaurant is long established in Cannock and head chef Babul Miah has won a clutch of awards, including the Tiffin Cup and a Midlands Curry title.

His latest creation involves four choices of curry, a juggernaut jalfrezi, a monster masala, King Kong korma or a volcano vindaloo. But the concept is the same – a balti dish probably three times the size of a regular one, stuffed with curry and rice, four onion bhajis, a naan bread and two giant samosas. Eat it in an hour and have it for free, as well as entering the Dilshad's coveted Hall Of Fame.

Appetite

Sounds simple, doesn't it? Well, for a start the monster masala, which I tried, also comes with 12 pieces of lamb and chicken on the bone.

Owner Tony reckons it will take a diner with one heck of an appetite to finish the dish and has thrown down the gauntlet. "We are always looking for new ideas and after the success of the inferno, we hit upon this," he said. "I think it's doable but it will take someone who's used to the big plate of food in front of them to manage it. If it is completed they can have the meal on the house with my compliments."

So how did I fare? My idea was to Mark pondering where to start

Getting ready to tuck in

It's all over as Mark realises he can stomach no more pace myself, not to go off too quickly and run out of steam, so to speak. It was a beautiful platter, it was going down well and I hit the bottom of the dish. Then I hit the wall.

Half an hour in, there still looked a long way to go, though the bhajis had gone and I'd made inroads into the samosas and naan. It was a marathon, not a sprint I'd convinced myself. I rested for a while and went back in, but eventually the white flag went up.

It was most enjoyable and I had given it a good go, but it ultimately proved beyond me. The portions are truly eye-popping and, it seems, I have eyes bigger than my stomach.

22 Playday chance for young to Get Wild

FROM building dens to hunting bugs – Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is encouraging youngsters to 'get wild' at its hugely popular Playday events next month.

Thousands of people attend the trust's Playday events each year – held to celebrate the National Day of Play at its Wolseley Centre HQ, near Rugeley, and Westport Lake Visitor Centre, Stoke-on-Trent. This year's Playday events take place on August 2 at Wolseley and August 3 at Westport, from 11am to 3pm on both days.

The National Day of Play is organised to highlight the importance and value of outdoor play within children's lives. The year's Playday theme will be 'Get Wild', with the trust encouraging families to take part in activities such as den building, bug hunting, slack lining, birthday party taster sessions, barefoot walks, fire lighting, Forest School taster sessions and much more.

VETS in Rugeley are urging people to resist the urge to interfere with wildlife which they think has been abandoned.

A pair of baby pigeons was handed in to Donnachie and Townley by a client who believed they had been left to fend for themselves.

Nurses are feeding the birds through a syringe and are encouraging them to take seed from a hanger bowl. They will continue to care for them until they are old enough to be released back into the wild.

However, Jo Waldron, head nurse at Donnachie and Townley, which has two practices in Staffordshire, said most baby birds on the ground have not actually been abandoned by their parents.

She said: "However tempting, interfering with a young bird can do more harm than good. Fledglings are extremely unlikely to be abandoned by their parents. These fledglings will have left the nest deliberately a short while before they are able to fly.

"Removal of a fledgling from the wild has to be a very last resort and then only if it is injured or has definitely been abandoned or orphaned," said Jo.

She added if a healthy-looking bird was unable to be put back in its nest, it should then be passed to the RSPCA or local wildlife rescue centre.

Footbridge repairs to cost extra £17,000

THE cost of replacing an unsafe footbridge has increased from £83,000 to £100,000.

The footway, in Rugeley, which spans the Rising Brook and is part of the Cannock Chase Heritage Trail, collapsed in 2012 but was propped up by 'rock armour boulders' as a temporary measure.

They have now been removed causing the bridge to collapse again.

An assessment has revealed some of the abutment structures are not fit for purpose, increasing the cost of repairs. Bosses on Cannock Chase District Council were set to approve the extra funding a meeting today (Thursday).

A report states it is 'critical' the works are completed before the ongoing multi-million pound flood defence scheme in the town is finished in December, because access to the bridge for the repairs will be 'impossible' afterwards.

Police panel in fresh plea for new members

PEOPLE are being urged to step forward to help hold policing in Cannock to account.

Cannock's Safer Neighbourhood Panel (SNP) is recruiting people who are aged 18 and over to look at the work of the police, and wider criminal justice and community safety issues, across the district.

Lesley Harrison, chairman of Cannock's SNP, said: "Having worked in public service for the majority of my working life, I believe organisations are accountable not just to public bodies and funders, but to the people they serve."

The Safer Neighbourhood Panels were launched by Staffordshire Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis in 2015. He said: "This is a real opportunity for people in Cannock to play a part in holding those responsible for policing in their area to account, and I'd urge them to get involved."

Anyone interested in joining the panel should visit www.staffordshire-pcc.gov.uk/safer-neighbourhood-panels/

Fast work in fundraising – as bikers roar in for annual rally

MORE than 300 bikers gathered at Penkridge Sports & Recreation Centre, known as The Monckton, for a weekend festival raising funds for good causes.

Organised by members of the Get Off Your Butt MCC Staffordshire & Cannock Bikers group, the event was in aid of the Blood Bikers, NABD (National Association for Bikers with a Disability) and the Monckton Charity Centre itself.

Buttstock, as the annual gathering is called, featured live music from four bands and a rock disco. Bikers from as far as Orkney attended.

"The Monckton Recreation Centre was a perfect venue for this," said Kevin 'Lou' Lewis, chairman of the bikers' group.

"This is our 17th event, and this year it was a great partnership with the Penkridge Sports & Recreation

The bikers at the cheque presentation to the centre

Centre. We travel all around the UK for these rallies to meet old and new friends.

"We also have a bit of fun with the Rally Virgins, who have to undergo a few trials and tribulations, including a stint in the stocks, but it's all in good humour."

Richard Bisiker, who on behalf of The Monckton received a donation cheque for £200, said: "The fantastic array of shiny bikes of all sizes, from the huge and scary to low-slung three-wheelers were all on proud display."

Pleasure

"It was quite something to organise a fiery looking bunch of seasoned bikers to order them to line up their bikes and get a great shot of them as they presented their cheque."

"But we are very grateful, and they were a pleasure to have on site, so we look forward to seeing much more of them."

The bikers group was founded in 1998 and meets every Sunday at Bridgtown Social Club in Cannock and is always looking for new members.

School puts in marathon effort for challenge

YOUNGSTERS at a Rugeley primary school have been hitting the running track.

Pupils from Chase View Primary School's running club have taken part in the national programme called The School Run Marathon Challenge.

This has seen the pupils at the school in Hilary Crest take on the challenge of running the equivalent of a half marathon – 13.1 miles.

Since April, the children, aged between eight and 11, have been running perimeter laps around the school field to reach the target.

Two of the students – Alfie Greenfield and Ethan Weaver – have also completed the full marathon distance of 26.2 miles.

Andrew Minott, headteacher at the school, said: "Some of the children involved have never run before and have never reached this incredible distance."

The School Run organises a number of challenges for school running clubs which pupils around the country take part in throughout the year.

Raining down with praise for Tempest

AN outdoor castle performance of Shakespeare's The Tempest is celebrating whipping up a storm – as more than 8,000 turned out for the show.

Stafford Festival Shakespeare producers are celebrating another successful show after the curtain fall on the final performance of The Bard's last play at Stafford Castle.

Despite some heavy rain at the beginning of the run, a total of 8,057 people turned out to see this year's production, which ran from June 22 to July 8, beating the total of the 2016 show, Othello, which 7,902 turned out for.

Audiences and critics alike were united in their praise for The Tempest – which received five-star reviews as well as a host of award nominations. Producer Derrick Gask described it as the 'most critically well-received show' in the festival's 27-year history.

"What an incredible few weeks it's been," he said. "To receive one five-star review is a fantastic achievement but to get three – from notable publications such as The Stage and Break A Leg review – is simply phenomenal!"

"Without doubt, this has been the most critically well-received show in the history of Stafford Festival Shakespeare. Everyone involved in this year's production has been blown away by the response."

yonder window breaks' as she lit up a joint. They had met at Capulet's night club.

Aruhan Galieva was more than a match for Romeo as a guitar-strumming, passionate and petulant Juliet. Lauryn Redding's no-nonsense Northern nurse was a treat.

The production did owe something to Baz Luhrmann's 1996 movie version and the fight scenes were a bit hokey. Sometimes the music drowned out a line of dialogue or the words were too gabbled.

However, this is nit-picking. Director Paul Hart's production obviously loves Shakespeare and wants to communicate that to audiences. It did a good job.

Watmill also presented Twelfth Night during their visit. I hope they come back next year.

I'll sing for René with Power of Love

When Celine Dion takes to the stage at Birmingham's Barclaycard Arena on Thursday – before returning to the venue on August 3 – she'll be watched over by the love of her life.

Celine's late husband, René Angélil, died last year. But he remains with her every minute of the day as she continues to grieve. The duo were inseparable and he remains permanently in her thoughts.

"I think I will probably grieve for the rest of my life. René has prepared me for all my life since I'm 12. I have never met another man in my life, never kissed another man in my life.

"I miss him a lot. I miss him a lot — for my partner, for the man I was embracing, kissing, making love with. My worries, my dreams . . ."

Celine says the couple made the best of their last weeks and months together. "No one chooses to be sick. "Life imposes for you to be sick and you have the option to be strong or not be strong.

"But to be surrounded by the right people helps a lot because, if you know you will die, make the best of it. "I proved to René that he was there for me and I'm going to be there for him – and I'm still there for him."

She still speaks to him and asks for advice. And, having sold 250 million records, she still hears his voice.

"He did suffer for three years. A lot.

"I took a year off and I said, 'My living well is to be with you, it's not my career. You are my career, you are my life'. "That's what a wife does, that's what a mother does, that's what a performer does. I took care of him the best way I could.

PROUD

"We talked a lot and I took notes every day. I had my Post-its and my crayons and my book, and everything he wanted or questioned, or he thought of, I wrote it down.

"I reassured him it was going to be done his way — he chose the songs at his funeral, the way he wanted it, everything to a T. And I respected that.

"I'm extremely proud of my children. Proud of what my husband has prepared me for without knowing. Today I can tell you I am very strong. At one point I showed my children to stand up. Even though they don't have a Papa anymore, Mama is here. But Papa is in their heart."

Her husband's passing has had a profound effect on Celine. It has changed her outlook on life and given her a new appetite to live life fully – and to encourage her children to do likewise.

"It is something that I had no choice to take charge of, that I am proud of – to prepare my children [for] their dad's passing. And that was a lesson for me, that you never know when things like this strike and you need to take charge. It was a lesson for me, but they're doing great."

"It's best to never wait for tomorrow to do what can be done today."

She's a remarkable figure who has sold 250 million records – the second most successful female artist to Madonna.

At the age of 12, Celine recorded a demo tape of a song she had written with her mother. They sent the tape to the manager and producer René Angélil, who handled the career of popular French singer Ginette Reno. After hearing the tape and inviting Celine to perform for him in person, René signed her immediately under the condition that he would have complete control over her career. He mortgaged his own home to finance her debut album, La Voix du bon Dieu (The Voice of God).

By the age of 18, Celine had recorded nine French albums and won numerous Felix and Juno awards (the Canadian equivalent of a Grammy Award). In 1988, she won the Eurovision Song Contest representing Switzerland in Dublin, Ireland, and her performance was broadcast live in countries throughout Europe, the Middle East, Australia and Japan. After this taste of international acclaim, she began looking to the south, and American stardom.

Her real breakthrough into pop music stardom came in 1992, when she recorded the theme to Disney's hit animated feature Beauty and the Beast, a duet with Peabo Bryson. The song, Beauty and the Beast, made it to number nine on the Billboard Hot 100 and won both a Grammy and an Academy Award.

It was featured on her second English album,

It's best to never wait for tomorrow to do what can be done today

Celine Dion, which became her first gold record in the United States and sold more than 12 million copies internationally.

The undeniable success of her self-titled effort, also including the hit If You Asked Me To, which made it to number four on the Billboard Hot 100 and number one on the adult contemporary chart, allowed Dion to launch her first headlining tour in the US.

In 1994, Dion happily merged her personal and professional life when she married René, who was 26 years her senior. René and his second wife had divorced in the 1980s, and, around that same time, he and Celine had begun a romantic relationship. Engaged in 1991, the couple tied the knot at Montreal's Notre Dame Basilica, in an elaborate ceremony that was celebrated throughout Canada.

She also scored a series of international number one hits, including The Power of Love, Think Twice, Because You Loved Me, It's All Coming Back to Me Now, and, of course, My Heart Will Go On, which featured on the soundtrack to one of the biggest grossing films of all time, Titanic, starring Leonardo DiCaprio.

Des O'Connor & Jimmy Tarbuck

Showbiz legends with a Grand night of anecdotes

Two showbiz veterans combine for a one-night only evening of star-studded anecdotes in Wolverhampton on Saturday.

Stars of TV and the Royal Variety Performances, Des O'Connor and Jimmy Tarbuck come together, accompanied by music and video to reminisce at the Grand Theatre.

O'Connor, now aged 85, has spent more than 60 years in the public eye. As well as hosting his own chat show and presenting game shows such as Take Your Pick, O'Connor has recorded 36 albums and has had four top-ten singles. He also became famous as the source of gags by comedy double act Morecambe and Wise.

Liverpudlian comic Tarbuck, 77, was a regular host of Sunday Night At The London Palladium and Live From Her Majesty's and fronted several game shows including Winner Takes All.

"The show with Des is a lot of fun, I promise you. It's not like going to a show, it's like being allowed into a party," said Jimmy. "The reception all over the country, from the London Palladium to the regional theatres, has been incredible."

Natasha steps up as Funny Girl star

Funny Girl brought global fame to Barbra Streisand 50 years ago, on Broadway, in the West End and then as a movie musical, and boasts such iconic songs as People and Don't Rain On My Parade.

It tells the story of Fanny Brice who went from burlesque to Broadway, becoming one of America's biggest stage and radio stars of the 1920s and 30s.

The latest revival has also confirmed Sheridan Smith as Britain's biggest current star of musical theatre and she graced the stage at Birmingham Hippodrome earlier this year.

Now the show may be producing a third star with Natasha J Barnes stepping into the role at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre from Monday to Saturday. And she is no stranger to the role, having shared the limelight with Sheridan in the West End and on tour.

She will get steadfast support from a company that includes former Pop Idol finalist and now in-demand leading man Darius Campbell in the male lead role of Nick Arnstein. They are pictured together,

Other shows to look out for include Voice of the Heart, a tribute to the music of The Carpenters at the Grand tomorrow night (Friday).

A version of Rudyard Kipling's The Jungle Book combines street dance and circus skills at The Patrick Centre, within Birmingham Hippodrome, until Saturday.

The People's Orchestra present Superhero Symphonies, featuring music from the movies at the New Alexandra Theatre on Saturday.

The same venue hosts former X Factor winner Joe McElderry on July 27.

Mental magic from trickster Derren

Illusionist Derren Brown will bring mind-bending magic and mental trickery to Birmingham's New Alexandra Theatre from Monday to Wednesday.

The 46-year-old star has baffled audiences in theatres and watching TV with his incredible feats, winning two Laurence Olivier Awards as well as a BAFTA.

His show Underground will feature some of his most famous illusions. It is not suitable for under 12s.

Visit www.atgtickets.com for further details.

Miss Saigon is the summer blockbuster

Cameron Mackintosh's acclaimed revival of Boubli and Schönberg's musical Miss Saigon lands at Birmingham Hippodrome for nine weeks from July 26. From the same pair who created Les Misérables, Miss Saigon is loosely based on Puccini's Madame Butterfly in its tragic romantic tale of a love affair between a Vietnamese bar girl and American GI during the last days of the Vietnam war.

Miss Saigon has become one of the most successful musicals in history, running for ten years in the West End and on Broadway. The show has been performed in 28 countries and in 15 different languages, and has won more than 40 awards. In Birmingham the central roles of Kim and Chris will be played Sooha Kim and Ashley Gilmore. For more details see www.birminghamhippodrome.com

Duo are taking an emotional trip down memory lane

What are your memories of Diana, Princess of Wales? Many people will always remember her as the fairytale royal bride arriving at St Paul's Cathedral for her marriage to Prince Charles; or the fun-loving princess dancing the night away with John Travolta at the White House.

Unfortunately, there were also sadder times, as she revealed in a TV interview that she had suffered depression, eating disorders and that "there were three of us in this marriage".

But for her two sons, HRH The Duke of Cambridge and HRH Prince Harry, the world's most photographed woman will always simply be their mischievous mother, whose love of life was infectious – perhaps best shown on their famous family outing to Thorpe Park.

"She was one of the naughtiest parents," Harry admits.

This intimate documentary made by the producers behind ITV's Our Queen at 90 is being shown to commemorate the 20th year since Diana's tragic death.

It is built around contributions from William and Harry, both of whom talk openly about their mother and pay tribute to the many ways she has influenced their lives.

Back in April, the princes admitted that they failed to talk to each other enough about the death of their mother and that not doing so only made matters worse.

Speaking about the trauma they endured as children when Diana was killed in a car crash in Paris in 1997, the princes urged people to be more open with their emotions.

They acknowledged in a video with the Duchess of Cambridge, released as part of their campaign to tackle mental health in Britain, that they had bottled up their feelings about her death rather than sharing them.

However, judging by this documentary, the two princes are starting to become more comfortable talking about their mother.

Prince Harry says: "This is the first time that the two of us have ever spoken about her as a mother."

In one particularly poignant scene, they are shown leafing through a treasured photograph album put together by Diana and recall some of the most joyful and touching moments from their childhood.

Studying a photo of his mother holding him while pregnant with Harry, William says: "Believe it or not, you and I are both in this photograph, you're in the tummy!"

"She was very informal and really enjoyed the laughter and the fun. But she understood that there was a real life outside of the palace walls."

As well as William and Harry, there are interviews with other key figures in Diana's life, including close friends and family.

The programme also focuses on the princess's contributions to public life, and her extensive charity and humanitarian work in areas including landmines, child bereavement and homelessness.

The series sees Robin return to Sydney after four years in New Zealand, ready to throw herself into her work, but when a suitcase containing the body of a young woman washes up on Bondi Beach, the cop is faced with an investigation that will lead closer to home than she could have imagined. That's because Robin is also privately searching for the daughter she gave up for adoption, the now 17-year-old Mary (Alice Englert), who is as odds with adoptive mum Julia (Kidman) – and in thrall to an older boyfriend with links to a brothel where a sex worker has gone missing.

Top of the Lake: China Girl, Thursday, BBC2, 9pm

FRIDAY
Big Brother: Live Final
Channel 5, 9pm
 The 18th series of the reality TV favourite (although there are new pretenders to the throne – Love Island, we're looking at you) reaches its climax tonight as the remaining few housemates deemed most popular with voting viewers over the past eight weeks find out who among them will emerge the victor. Emma Willis is, of course, on hand to reveal the result, evicting the finalists one by one (and viewing their best bits), before finally chatting to the winner about their experience in the house. Then it's over to Ryan for a further set of interviews in Bit on the Side. And if you're wondering what to do with your evening's now it's all over, worry not – the Celeb version will be back in a week.

Green for go at Second City bar

It can often be a real struggle to find a place to unwind and relax when out and about in a busy city centre on a Saturday afternoon. Birmingham always has plenty going with its abundance of shops, restaurants and bars.

So when you stumble across a lovely little venue that helps to remove all the stresses and strains of city life, it's worth pointing out.

The Green Room café is the closest bar and restaurant to the Birmingham Hippodrome. Sitting practically on the doorstep of the second city's top theatre, in The Arcadian, it prides itself on being the perfect place to grab a pre-theatre meal, relax with some interval or post-theatre drinks – or, for people like us, it caters for those who simply fancy a break and something nice to eat.

It was my brother Tom's pre-birthday treat so along with his fiancée, Claire, and my two-year-old daughter, Annabelle, we decided to try somewhere that looked welcoming and not overly fancy. There was just something very friendly about the atmosphere here.

We decided to sit outside in the lovely courtyard-style area. However, in good old British style, the heavens soon opened so we were forced to move indoors. The layout is open plan, with tables and chairs set out for couples, families and large groups.

The food is pretty standard fare but as we found out it's also very tasty – and there's plenty of it.

As we were all sharing two starters, we decided on the marinated olives, homemade hummus and selection of breads, and deep-fried squid with a crispy chilli coating served with alioli dip. The platter came with plenty of warm pittas, and a tomato-based hummus, which contained just enough garlic. The dish was plenty for us to all share and, when mixed with the tangy olives, the combined flavours were a delight. But the showstopper for me was the calamari.

The Green Room, close to Birmingham Hippodrome

Claire and Tom had just returned from a holiday in Portugal – and being lovers of fried squid, both agreed this was better than anything they'd eaten aboard. Quite a compliment seeing as they'd been staying in a fishing village by the sea. Again, there was a decent portion and when the hot fish was dunked in the alioli, we wished there was more. After Annabelle's homemade macaroni cheese (with an extra sausage) had been agreed on, we ordered our own mains. I opted for the 'quiche of the day', which turned out to be broccoli and stilton and served with a salad and rustic chips – chunky, soft on the inside and crispy out, they were delicious, and went really well with the light and fluffy quiche, which also had a delightfully crumbly base.

My brother fancied the falafel burger from the specials board and Claire the homemade vegetarian burger, which came with lettuce, beef tomato and relish – as well as chips, of course. Both said their burgers were very tasty but particularly praised the relish with its tangy taste. Tom thought there was perhaps too much mint in his burger but the plates were empty at the end – even Annabelle enjoyed trying some of it.

As for her children's dish, it was a very large portion for her, so we all dug in. The mac and cheese was simple, but very nice. It also came with a soft drink.

There were plenty of classic desserts to choose from as well as a cream tea for two with tea or filter coffee. Next time you are in the second city, why not go Green? James Driver-Fisher

New offers on Kia models during the summer months

Kia Motors (UK) Limited has announced its offers available for those looking to buy a Kia in the summer months.

Not only is the Korean car manufacturer continuing to offer customers of the all-new Picanto free insurance for up to one year, but it is extending this offer to the all-new Rio 'Pulse'. Customers aged between 21 and 79, who register their all-new Picanto or all-new Rio 'Pulse' from now to September 30, 2017, can take advantage of free one-year Kia insurance.

All-new Picantos from grade '2' and above are available with 4.9 per cent PCP and a £500 deposit contribution. All-new Rio customers can also benefit from 4.9 per cent PCP with a deposit contribution between £500 and £1,500.

Customers looking to purchase an SUV will benefit from a host of offers on Kia's Sportage or Sorento models. Those who have owned the previous-generation Sportage can receive £500 off the purchase of a new Sportage or Sorento, as part of a loyalty offer. In addition to this, customers who register either model between now and September 30 will receive a three-year Kia Care-3 servicing package free of charge.

Caravan Club members buying a Sorento privately through the Kia dealer network will benefit from £1,000 towards Kia accessories. All grades have all-wheel drive, hill-start assist, trailer stability assist, reversing sensors and can haul between 2,000kg and 2,500kg depending on the version, meaning this SUV is a perfect companion for caravanning adventures.

2016 saw the launch of the all-new Optima Sportswagon. For customers who cannot decide between the Optima Saloon or this new model, a free upgrade will be available, making both cars available at the same list price from now to September 30, 2017.

Ford's Transit Custom gets a bold new design and interior

Ford has revealed the new Transit Custom one-tonne commercial vehicle, delivering bold new design, an all-new interior and enhanced productivity to European businesses. New Transit Custom will be available to order later this year, and is scheduled for customer delivery in early 2018.

Powered by the Dagenham-built Ford EcoBlue 2.0-litre diesel engine, Transit Custom has been re-engineered to offer significant new features and capabilities, including a new EConetic variant, delivering improved fuel efficiency and 148 g/km CO2 emissions.

The UK's best-selling commercial vehicle now sports a bold new front-end design with three-bar Transit grille, a completely new cabin that offers best-in-class stowage, improved comfort and ergonomics, and easy connectivity with SYNC 3 or MyFord Dock options. Further technologies introduced to commercial vehicles for the first time include Intelligent Speed Limiter.

"Transit Custom has been a runaway success since it was introduced, and this new version raises the game once more," said Hans Schep, general manager, Commercial Vehicles, Ford of Europe.

"We have listened carefully to our customers, and delivered a one-tonne van that is even more stylish, even

The UK's best-selling commercial vehicle now has a new design more productive, and packed with smart features."

The new generation Transit Custom sets the scene for Ford's next major commercial vehicle innovation, with the introduction of the zero-emission capable Plug-in Hybrid (PHEV) derivative scheduled for 2019. The PHEV Transit Custom will begin trials with fleet customers in London later this year.

Introduced in late 2012, Transit Custom quickly established itself as Ford's top-selling commercial vehicle in the UK and across Europe. Total European sales for 2016 were at 118,000 units – a further 15 per cent increase over the previous year's record – with more than 50,000 of those sales in the UK alone. Transit Custom was the first of Ford's expanded all-new Transit line-up to go on sale – later joined by the Transit Courier, Transit Connect and Transit models – and was a key driver in Ford becoming Europe's number one commercial vehicle brand in 2015, a leading position it has held ever since.

A classy place to spend hours out on the road

By Ian Donaldson

When it comes to clinching the deal Vauxhall customers want to see something for their money – and right there in the showroom works best.

So you'll quite likely be popped into the driver's seat of a new Insignia Sports Tourer and be asked to look straight ahead where, if the car has been specced right, you'll feel like a fighter pilot.

For a £290 option brings a head up display that pops speed and sat nav directions directly on to the windscreen, in your sightline and saving a distracting glance downward. Audi charges £900 for the same thing, by the way.

Wander round the rear of this new load lugger from Luton and you may find a bigish cardboard box in the boot, its 135 litres capacity being the precise increase in cargo capacity over the old Sport Tourer. It's the sort of obvious, practical demonstration of a car's capabilities that, we're told by the men who know at Vauxhall, that makes people happy to sign on the dotted line.

Very sensible too; you may admire the looks of the new largest estate in the Vauxhall range – even spot its modest growth over the one before – but life with a car that will have to earn its living quickly boils down to practicalities.

The outgoing model wasn't quite practical enough, apparently. Too tight for legroom in the back, for starters. The new one stretches the distance between front and rear wheels to the benefit of rear seat passengers.

They now enjoy enough room for two six-footers to sit comfortably in tandem. Not quite the limo-like stretch of a Skoda Superb, though, which is actually shorter than the new Insignia but in a class of its own in space terms.

The Skoda has the Vauxhall licked on boot room too and so does the VW Passat estate but a perhaps more direct competitor, Ford's Mondeo, is smaller in the luggage bay than the Insignia with back seat up or down.

Whatever the figures show you won't declare the new Vauxhall lacking in stowage space, and worth the £1,500 lift over the Grand Sport hatchback sibling.

The great majority will be heading for life as a company car and there's surely ample room for all the paraphernalia that goes with it. And at weekends when the family piles on board, the Sports Tourer will swallow all the football kit for the Second XI and still have space for pizzas on the way home.

Prices start at £18,685 for a Design version with a new 1.5 litre 140 horsepower petrol engine.

Not many will go for the entry level trim but Vauxhall thinks the current swing against diesel (warranted or not) might make this petrol model surprisingly popular.

For another £795 you move up to a Design Nav spec, perhaps essential for anyone who needs to know precisely how far away the next business meeting is and when they're going to get there.

You can have a car without sat nav in the next grade up – SRI – but you wonder how many will, with prices from £21,580 for a map enabled (petrol) version.

An SRI 1.6 litre 136 bhp diesel (£23,240) tried over a mixed route on the press launch showed 54mpg at the end in comparison to the 40mpg of the petrol car, which felt less lively too. Both rode well and felt a mostly classy place to while away hours on the road. There are plenty of cubbies and stowage places and a crisp, business-like feel to the way dials are drawn and switches placed.

As befits a car that must appeal to a multitude of company pecking orders, there are plenty of engines to choose from, starting with two versions of the new 1.5 petrol (140 and 165PS) and five diesels in either 1.6 or 2.0 litres capacity and power outputs from 110 to 170PS.

A 2.0 litre petrol with 260 horsepower, automatic gears and all-wheel drive is waiting in the wings but its 199g/km and eye-watering £1,200 first year's road tax are likely to keep it a rare sight. The 112g/km and £160 tax of the cleanest diesel will be a bigger pull in a market where practicalities still count.

Standard spec, or the options list, will provide Apple CarPlay and Android Auto phone integration, heated seats for outer rear passengers, powerful LED lights and even the ability to book a hotel by speaking to a real human as you drive along, via Vauxhall's OnStar service.

And your sat nav will take you straight there, of course.

This is a car engineered to provide a comfortable drive

Quirky little compact and affordable funky city car

By Simon Davis

Suzuki's Ignis offers buyers an affordable price tag, a fairly generous amount of standard equipment and respectable fuel economy figures from its peppy little 1.2-litre engine that it shares with the Swift. Then, of course, there are those rather quirky looks, which will no doubt appeal to customers who are in the market for a car that stands out from the crowd.

To look at, the little Suzuki 'compact crossover' combines quite a cutesy face with a rather staunch stance – well, as staunch a stance a car this size can manage, anyway. Regardless of your tastes, it does have the effect of giving the Ignis a far more assertive presence on the road than those of its immediate rivals in the city car class.

Inside, the Ignis is a bit of a let-down, with cheap plastics in the cabin. But then again, this is billed as an affordable city runabout, so to complain about less-than-premium materials being used in the interior rather seems to defeat the whole purpose of the car.

Don't expect to be bowled over by the Ignis's practicality. Sure there is enough room in the cabin for four adults, but don't expect them to be massively comfortable for long journeys. Despite the car's rather tall stance, headroom in the back of the Ignis is tight,

The Ignis offers 260 litres of boot space and taller passengers will find their heads come in contact with the roof. That said, though, knee room isn't too bad at all. For those with small children (who won't mind being in the back of the car), it's worth mentioning that only the entry-level SZ3 Ignis is available with three seats in the second row.

As far as boot space goes, the Ignis offers 260 litres with the rear seats in place, which is more than enough for a week's worth of food shopping.

The Ignis is only available with one engine – the same 1.2-litre petrol unit that's found in the larger Swift. The four-cylinder engine isn't the most powerful, with only 89bhp on tap, but it does a good enough job of getting the big little city car up to speed. The dash, or stroll in this case, from 0-60mph takes 12 seconds, and in cars that feature the SHVS 'mild hybrid' system and four-wheel drive, this drops to 11.3.

One of the first things you'll notice is the fact that you sit rather high up. While this does mean visibility out of the sides and back is excellent, it also gives the impression that the car will roll around a bit more in the corners – which it certainly does. This is a car that has been engineered to provide a comfortable ride, rather than one that is all about out-and-out driving dynamics. Don't get us wrong, though – on British roads it deals with lumps, bumps and uneven surfaces in a composed manner, which is a welcome characteristic.

Around town, the Ignis is an ace little car to drive. Its incredibly light controls make tight manoeuvres a doddle, and thanks to incredibly short overhangs, you're never in too much danger of accidentally pranging into anything. SZ-T and SZ5 models also get a standard-fit rear-view camera that makes parking even easier.

Suzuki hasn't left much room to criticise the Ignis as far as value for money is concerned. Base-spec SZ3 models come with standard features such as DAB radio and Bluetooth connectivity, as well as USB connectivity and a CD player that is MP3 compatible.

Moving up the range, the SZ-T gains larger 16-inch alloys, a touchscreen infotainment system that incorporates satellite navigation and a rear parking camera, while the flagship SZ5 gains LED headlights, keyless entry and climate control.

Running costs aren't horrendous, either. Suzuki claims the SZ5 SHVS 4x4 model that we tested can manage a combined fuel economy figure of 60.1mpg. While we didn't quite manage this, we were still able to average around 52mpg during our time with the Ignis.

It's a fairly comprehensive little car, really, and when you consider that prices for the SZ3 start at just £9,999, it's quite a sensible choice, too.

As it is not possible for the substance of responses to be checked to ascertain whether they contain other personal data, you should not include information in your response that could identify you unless you are content for it to be made public.

If you do not want any of your response to be published you should clearly mark it as “Confidential” in the “subject” of the email or at the top of your letter. However please note the following two paragraphs.

If you want the information you provide to be treated as confidential, you should be aware that all information provided in response to this consultation, including personal information, may be subject to disclosure in accordance with access to information regimes (these are primarily the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004). Under the FOIA, there is a statutory Code of Practice with which public authorities must comply and which deals, amongst other things, with confidentiality obligations. In view of this it would be helpful if you could explain in your response why you regard the information you have provided as confidential. If a request for disclosure of the information you provide is received full account will be taken of your explanation, but no assurance can be given that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances. An automatic confidentiality disclaimer generated by your IT system will not, of itself, be regarded as binding on the Department for Transport or High Speed 2 (HS2) Limited.

Please note that all responses received, whether marked Confidential or not, will be passed on in full to the Houses of Parliament and their appointed Assessor, who will analyse the responses and make a report to Parliament. That report will not contain your personal data.

The Bill will be introduced as a public Bill. In the House of Commons, an Order will be made when the Bill is read a Second time in that House and committed providing for objection to the Bill to be made by depositing a Petition against it in the Private Bill Office in accordance with the provisions of such Order (which will specify the latest date for depositing such a petition). In the House of Lords, objection to the Bill may be made by depositing a Petition against it in the office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, and the latest date for depositing such a Petition against the Bill may be the subject of an Order made by that House or, if no Order is made, will be the tenth day after that on which the Bill receives its First reading in that House. In the latter case, if this date is a Sunday, Christmas Day or a Bank Holiday, or a day on which the House does not sit, the final date for depositing may be postponed.

Information about the deposit of such a Petition may be obtained from the Private Bill Office, House of Commons, or the office of the Clerk of Parliaments, House of Lords, or the undermentioned Parliamentary Agents.

STAFFORDSHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984
(AS AMENDED)

ROAD TRAFFIC (TEMPORARY RESTRICTIONS) ACT 1991
PUBLIC FOOTPATH NO. 50 (A) CANNOCK TOWN PARISH
TEMPORARY CLOSURE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Staffordshire County Council, on 18 July 2017, made an Order the effect of which is to prohibit any pedestrian from proceeding along that length of Public Footpath No. 50
(A) Cannock Town Council, starting from a point approximately 47 metres south west of the junction of Pebble Mill Drive and Ridings Brook Drive, for a distance of approximately 68 metres in a south easterly direction.
The closure is required due to works in connection with the railway lines including installation of overhead power line equipment and renewal and realignment of the track.

A temporary diversion will be in place during the period of the closure as shown on the plan.

A plan will be displayed showing the lengths of public footpaths to be closed and unaffected rights of way in the area.

This Order will come into operation on 21 July 2017 and will remain in force for a period of six months or until the railway line works are complete, whichever is the earlier. If necessary, after six months, the Order may be extended for a further period with the approval of the Secretary of State.

PARKER

20th July

God looked around His garden and found an empty space. He then looked down upon the earth and saw your tired face.

He put His arms around you and lifted you to rest. Gods garden must be beautiful He always takes the best.

He knew you were suffering
He knew you were in pain. He knew that you would never get well on earth again.

He saw the road was getting rough and the hills were hard to climb, so He closed your weary eye lids and whispered peace be thine.

It broke my heart to lose you but you didn't go alone, for part of me went with you the day God called you home.

Miss you loads

Chris.

Superbikers roar to best ever race results

SNETTERTON was a weekend to remember for the region's British Super-bike riders who either made the podium or posted their best ever results. Hednesford's Kurt Wigley put a disappointing round at Knockill behind him to post a fantastic eighth and sixth-place finishes.

The 21-year-old is now 15th in the table on 27 points.

Josh Hiatt, 14, who lives just up the road from Wigley in Heath Hayes, also posted his best ever results in the British KTM Cup walking away with a 14th and 11th place finish, to sit 14th in the championship.

Brierley Hill-born Michael Rutter started from third place on the grid in the National Superstock 1000cc championships but lost his place off the line to Chrissy Rouse.

By lap three he had lost another spot to a flying Mason Law but by the 14th the 45-year-old had caught and passed Rouse and, on the final lap, went passed Richard Cooper to cross the line in third spot for another podium, keeping him third in the championship table.

Wolverhampton & Bilston's talented sprinter Ellis Greatrex

Olympic gold medallist Denise Lewis will join the celebrations

Tournament praise handed out to girls

NEARLY 100 girls took part in the finals day at a first-of- its-kind handball tournament in Wolverhampton.

All the schools involved at Aldersley Stadium are part of the Cameron Homes Initiative, a three-year programme developed by the house builders. It has provided £45,000 to boost the sport and encourage girls to get involved.

Qualifying tournaments played in the West Midlands, Shropshire, Staffordshire and Derbyshire involved more than 200 girls and provided winners from each region to compete at the finals at under 13 and under 15.

The under-15 tournament provided Newport Girls High School in Shropshire with a clear victory over Bishop Walsh of Sutton Coldfield, with Blessed Robert Sutton of Burton-on- Trent finishing third.

In a dramatic under-13 final, Newport Girls High School scored the winning goal with one minute remaining to beat Arthur Terry School of Aldridge.

Chase pays off as Boro bag Westwood

FORMER Wolverhampton Sporting hotshot Dan Westwood has been snapped up by Stafford Rangers. The Marston Road club ended a year-long chase for the prolific forward following is release from AFC Telford United.

Westwood, aged 26, caught the attention of plenty of non-league clubs with his goalscoring exploits for Sporting, of West Midlands Premier. He smashed 100 goals in just 72 games, and netted 60 last term before jumping up five divisions to join The Bucks in National League North.

The Wolverhampton-based teacher had little game time there and was told he could leave after former Hednesford Town boss Rob Smith was sacked and replaced by ex-Wolves coach Rob Edwards.

Westwood has dropped a division to join Evo-Stik Premier side Boro, who have also signed Bradley Fortnam-Tomlinson and Tommy Cooney. Boss Neil Kitching said: "We have chased him for 12 months.

"As soon as we knew he was leaving Telford, we jumped at the chance to get him in."

Golden girl on track to join anniversary bash

OLYMPIC champion Denise Lewis MBE will return 'home' to help Wolverhampton & Bilston Athletics Club celebrate their 50th anniversary.

Lewis heads a list of star-studded athletes who will turn out to mark the special occasion later this year.

The club where Lewis started her glittering career are hosting a glamorous dinner in September to mark the milestone with athletes past and present due to attend.

Lewis, who won heptathlon gold in the 2002 Olympics, will be joined by other famous athletes such as Sonia Lannaman, who won Olympic bronze in the 4x100m relay in Moscow, Jim Auckett and Stephen Pearson.

Aside from her gold in Sydney, Lewis, now aged 44, won bronze in the 1998 games in Atlanta, two silver medals in the World Championships, gold at the European Championships, two golds in the Commonwealth Games and gold and silver in the European Cup.

Other famous athletes to have worn the W&B vest include Don Holliday, Verona Barnard, Maureen Tranter, Rosemary Stirling, Mike Bull, Phil Lewis, Ralph Banthorpe, Kathy Cook and Gary Cook.

Club bosses said it would be great to have former members at the event, taking place on September 30 – who could inspire young athletes to bright careers.

Inspire

Club president Mary Harding, 65 from Coven, said: "Having the likes of Denise here and others will most definitely inspire future generations.

"Denise started out with us, and look what she has gone on to achieve.

"It is fantastic to be holding the event. There will be some big names who turn up."

Harding has been president of the club for almost 30 years. Before that she represented the club in hammer-throwing.

While W&B is marking its 50th anniversary, its roots go back for more than a century.

SPORTING FEATURE

By Jamie Brassington

"I am interested to meet some of the old people I used to train with. I don't think many people realise now how good we were."

A former version of the club was based at Molineux in 1914, where a track was located around the pitch.

A decade later, Wolverhampton Athletics Club was formed in 1924. Then it merged with Penn Harriers in 1943 to form Wolverhampton Harriers before moving to its current home in Aldersley in 1956.

It came to operate under its current name after Bilston was incorporated into Wolverhampton in 1967 in a reorganisation by local government.

This led Wolverhampton Harriers and Bilston Town Athletic Club merging to form Wolverhampton and Bilston Club.

It was once Great Britain's leading athletics club, winning the men's National League Division One from 1972 to 1982, and Men's National Cup final in 1976, 1977, 1979 and 1980.

It also represented Britain in the European Clubs Cup from 1976 to 1983.

The club has a number of upcoming talented athletes who bosses feel could have a successful future.

Hammer-throwing coach Stephen Pearson believes two of those are Phoebe Baggot, 15, and Molly Walsh 17. Phoebe has previously been a record-breaker during a national tournament involving schools from across the country. At the recent English Schools track & field championships in Birmingham, she reached the final and came third with a throw of 56.32m, ahead of club-mate Molly who was fourth with a distance of 53.15m

Pearson described them both as having the potential to go onto achieving bright things.

Pearson's son, Benjamin, 23, who has trained at the club, went to the last Commonwealth Games but could not compete due to injury and is still recovering.

Talented teenage sprinter Ellis Greatrex is another one to watch having represented GB at the European Youth Championships. He was also successful in the recent Birmingham contest, winning the 400m in 47.82 secs

Pearson, who has competed at international level and represented Great Britain, said he was looking forward to meeting some of the club's members with whom he used to train.

"I am interested to meet some of the old people I used to train with," he said.

"I don't think many people realise now how good we were."

The day itself will see members meet at Aldersley Stadium before heading off to WV1 bar for the meal.

And a number of W&B athletes will gather at the race track to run a mile in memory of the late commentator and broadcaster David Coleman, who was honorary club president from 1982-93

The dinner will be combined the club's track and field presentations which will honour the achievements of its athletes across different competitions.

Tickets

Tickets are yet to go on sale, but will be priced at £15 for adults and £5 for under 20s. Priority will be given to past and present club members.

To reserve tickets call Mary Harding on 07809 645790 or email mary@wolvesandbilstonac.co.uk

The club is hoping to attract new recruits by staging a variety of athletics-based activities during the summer holidays.

They are aimed at six-to-16-year-olds and are being held at Aldersley Stadium, from 9am to 2pm between July 31 and August 4 and from August 14 to 18.

Cost is £30 for the week per person. Contact Tobias Nwenwu on 07445 359546, email Tnwenwu@hotmail.co.uk, ring the stadium direct on 01902 556200 or email www.wolvesandbilston.co.uk

Pitmen in deal to boost community links

George Hounsell (Little Sports Club), Charlie Taylor and general manager Carl Cooper

HEDNESFORD Town have agreed a deal with The Little Sports Club to forge stronger links in the local community.

The In The Community (ITC) partnership will see The Little Sports Club take control of the club's community projects and help support the football club with their youth and academy sides.

Carl Cooper, Hednesford's general manager, said: "With The Little Sports Club I know we will be giving an excellent service to all ages and introducing new activities for everyone to be able to participate in. I am also very pleased to be able to work with our new sponsors for this season, W&D Reactive, who will be supporting us in the project and helping support the local community."

The Little Sports Club head coach George Hounsell and Cooper have already started planning various programmes and projects.

Hounsell said: "I cannot wait to get this new partnership started."

"We're thankful to various club's partners, which include W&D Reactive, who have already backed the new partnership."

FIRSTS FALTER IN RUN CHASE

ED Martin was the pick of the Cannock bowlers as Cannock hosted Hammerwich at Chase Park.

Wickets fell at regular intervals during the visitors' innings and they ended on 204-8 with Martin taking 3-52.

Cannock's batting faltered in reply on a deteriorating wicket and the run chase never gathered momentum. Number 10 Ryan Elliott ended unbeaten on 37 as the home side were dismissed for 171, losing by 33 runs.

The second XI were never really in the game at Old Wulfrunians, who amassed 303-5 from their 50 overs. Despite a 50 from Mike Chadderton, the visitors fell ended on 210-6.

After being asked to bat first on a bowler-friendly wicket, Cannock thirds were 19-2 when Perkins came to the crease and he promptly hit a magnificent 151, supported by Martin Davies (50) as the visitors posted 288-8. Early wickets came from Ant Wood (3-46) and Ryan Pearce (3-32) and when Matthew Bull took the final wicket in the last over, they had been dismissed for 101 and Cannock had won by 187 runs.

Skittled

Veteran Mark Boden (102) led the way for the fourths with his first club century against Wightwick & Finchfield fourths. Cannock were bowled out for 232, then captain Aaron Saunders took 3-6 and Jamie Fleet 3-14 as the visitors were skittled for 69, giving Cannock a 163-run win.

In the Birmingham League, Penkridge have been sent spinning into the division two relegation zone after an 82-run defeat against promotion-chasing Fordhouses.

Tendai Chisoro top-scored with 59 in a Fordhouses total of 190 with Arslan Shahid taking 4-58. Opening batsman Mohammed Ishtiaq clubbed 64 in 88 balls in reply but Penkridge were all out for 108.

Kabir Ali (118) and Saqib Akbar (54) boosted C&R Hawks to 277 against leaders Oswestry, but they fell one wicket short.

Daniel Wilks hit 165 in Whittington's 309 against Staffs Clubs League premier division leaders Pelsall. But Pelsall racked up 340-6 to win by 31 runs. Jono Allcock took 3-67.

Nathan Timbrell and Paul McHale shared seven wickets as Rugeley bowled out Springvale for 230. McHale then scored 47, adding to Adam Le Feaver's 98, to see Rugeley home by six wickets. Mohammad Adail claimed 5-8 as Aldridge thirds posted 196 against Armitage. But his side could only muster up 147 in reply, losing by 49 runs.

Family pride in martial arts skills

THERE was brotherly love as a martial arts club's youngest student passed his first grading – and his sibling followed suit with his own yellow belt.

Luke and James Gardiner have been training in the Japanese art of aikido for two years and are members of the Black Star club, in Cheslyn Hay. Luke, 10, and James, 12, had already taken two full-day seminars at the club's headquarters in preparation of their first grading.

Meanwhile, a father and son team demonstrated the ability in empty hand techniques to achieve their orange belt. Mark Wilkes, 46, and Kyle, 25, also demonstrated the traditional seven cuts of the wooden sword.

The Black Star Aikido Organisation is hosting the UK Budo Kamp 2017 Martial Arts International Event on October 14.

Black Star Aikido runs Monday and Friday evenings at The Village Hall, in Pinfold Lane. Enrolment starts on September 4. For further details email info@blackstaraikido.com

Pitmen go forging ahead with Smith

Romulus 0 Hednesford Town 1
HEDNESFORD Town made it two friendly wins in succession – and their first clean sheet of close-season – with a second half goal from Lee Smith enough to defeat Romulus.

Smith fired home in the 54th minute after being picked out by Luke Rodgers.

Heath Hayes 2 Chasetown 4
HEATH Hayes' young side put in a creditable performance against a side two divisions higher in front of a crowd of 225.

Jake Lovatt gave Chasetown a 37th minute lead and Chris Baker added a second a minute later. The third came from Will Whieldon before Regan Smith pulled one back. Clayton Johnstone restored the two-goal advantage before another from Hayes from Jack Arrowsmith.
